6-cylinder models only

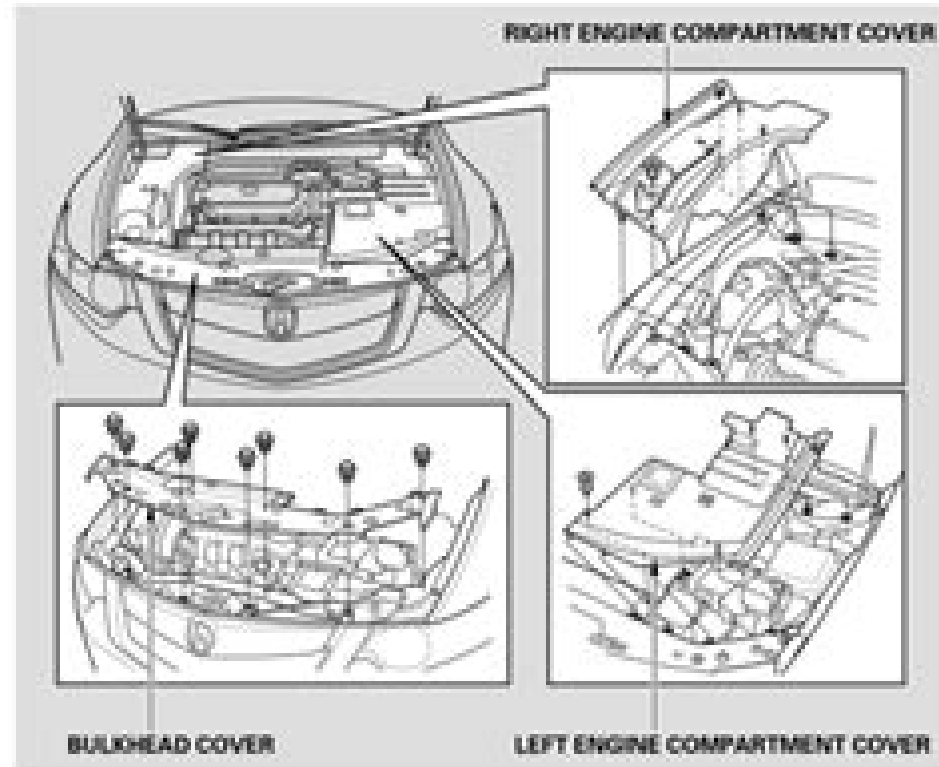

The component parts in the engine compartment are protected by several covers. You may need to remove the covers when you perform some simple maintenance work.

To remove the covers:

1. Remove the holding clip(s).
2. Remove the right and left engine compartment covers by pulling up.
3. Pull the bulkhead cover straight up to remove.

After replacing the right engine compartment cover, make sure the washer fluid cap is firmly in place.

When reinstalling the covers, make sure the pins and tabs are in their proper positions, and put the holding clip(s) back in place securely.
