

Robot engine has a heavily finished cylinder and head. Chrome steel cylinder can't be bent.

Fork has 2.7 in. of travel. Front brake is efficient.

Racing Suspension For the CR80

Honda's new CR80 is a dirtier bike except for the shocks. And the shocks are bad enough to hamper a true evaluation of the bike, so we started calling around for replacement shocks. KYB Performance has a complete line of shock absorbers including shocks, forks and upper kits and sets a pair of KYB motor shocks and a heavy fork damper kit.

We installed the shocks first. They come with an instruction manual and all of the necessary mounting hardware. They are 6 1/2 in. longer than the stock ones and 10.5 in. in shock stroke. Installation takes about half an hour and requires slight trimming of the rear fender for clearance clearance. The extra length moves the back of the bike slightly and the extra stroke increases travel about one inch to 11 in. The stock one didn't make the CR look like a frog. Quite the opposite, it looks more right than before. The KYB's were still used for a couple of days, a pattern we have experienced with just KYB shocks. The difference is caused by right shaft seals that take time to break in. Once broken in, the CR's suspension could be used to full advantage. The bike corners better than before due to increased take from the longer shock length, and big jumps are taken in stride. The bike back front jumps without shuddering and the rider maintains control easily. Shock waves no longer travel through the frame and rider. The CR's don't look or feel the same. We were so pleased with the bike we didn't doubt the fork kit? A pro rider will probably want to use the fork kit soon because the fork tube and it'll be more sure to be competitive, but most serious and intermediate won't need it. The shocks cost $29.95, the fork kit is $39.95. Both are available from KYB Performance, 1170 Van Hook, Anaheim, CA 92804 (714) 634-5471.

only measurement that differs, the CR was a shock on both levels than the one.

The CR was down position than other this team we've tested. It's necessary to fill the tank before race, then about one, or the bike will run out. It also feels not good. We installed a constant-speeder two-inch stroke making it easier to keep on the pipe and generally improve performance. The longer stroke means less shifting and less clutch timing. Top speed is still enough for fast tracks and the bike is easier to ride.

All in all, the CR80 is a good first year team. Shock replacement is a must, but the rest of the bike is worth the added cost to the buyer, since for now's time to spend money making the engine faster.

Shocks are beautiful in look and work nicely. Pipe is fat but doesn't turn over. Shocks are small and can't be repaired. Airline is good and contains a large frame tube.
