Introducing Human Geographies Kelly Dombroski, Mark Goodwin, Junxi Qian, Andrew Williams, Paul Cloke, 2024-07-09
Introducing Human Geographies is a travel guide into the academic subject of human geography and the things that it studies. The coverage of the new edition has been thoroughly refreshed to reflect and engage with the contemporary nature and direction of human geography. This updated and much extended fourth edition includes a diverse range of authors and topics from across the globe with a completely revised set of contributions reflecting contemporary concerns in human geography. Presented in four parts with a streamlined structure, it includes over 70 contributions written by expert international researchers addressing the central ideas through which human geographers understand and shape their subject. It maps out the big foundational ideas that have shaped the discipline past and present, explores key research themes being pursued in human geography's various sub-disciplines, and identifies emerging collaborations between human geography and other disciplines in the areas of technology, justice, and environment. This comprehensive, stimulating, and cutting-edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full-colour figures, maps, and photos. The book is designed especially for students new to university degree courses in human geography across the world and is an essential reference for undergraduate students on courses related to society, place, culture, and space. Competence Assessment in Education Detlev Leutner, Jens Fleischer, Juliane Grünkorn, Eckhard Klieme, 2017-03-27 This book addresses challenges in the theoretically and empirically adequate assessment of competencies in educational settings It presents the scientific projects of the priority program Competence Models for Assessing Individual Learning Outcomes and Evaluating Educational Processes which focused on competence assessment across disciplines in Germany The six year program coordinated 30 research projects involving experts from the fields of psychology educational science and subject specific didactics The main reference point for all projects is the concept of competencies which are defined as context specific cognitive dispositions that are acquired and needed to successfully cope with certain situations or tasks in specific domains Koeppen et al 2008 p 62 The projects investigate different aspects of competence assessment The primary focus lies on the development of cognitive models of competencies complemented by the construction of psychometric models based on these theoretical models In turn the psychometric models constitute the basis for the construction of instruments for effectively measuring competencies The assessment of competencies plays a key role in optimizing educational processes and improving the effectiveness of educational systems This book contributes to this challenging endeavor by meeting the need for more integrative interdisciplinary research on the structure levels and development of competencies The Political Economy of Global Citizenship Education Vanessa De Oliveira Andreotti, 2016-03-16 This edited collection offers analyses of global citizenship education within and across different national contexts This book illustrates the contingency of definitions the complexities of juxtaposing demands and priorities in different educational contexts and the difficulties and tensions of asking a question that is arguably one of the most pressing of our time how should we live together in interdependent ecologies in a finite planet In the discipline of education where market imperatives and the dictatorship of effective replicable results have laid siege to independent debates this book aims to emphasize the importance of raising our intellectual game as educators to interrupt new and old problematic patterns of engagements representations uncomplicated solutions and conceptual straightjackets Contributors to this volume address the tensions between homogenizing universalisms and parochial specificisms ethnocentrism and relativism deficit theorizations and romanticizations of difference fantasies of supremacy and paralysis in guilt the global and the local The chapters take different approaches to map the origins meanings workings ethics politics and implications of initiatives approaches and conceptual frameworks related to the ideas of globalization citizenship and education in different sites of knowledge production This book was originally published as a special issue of Globalisation Societies and Education The Routledge Handbook of

Methodologies in Human Geography Sarah A. Lovell, Stephanie E. Coen, Mark W. Rosenberg, 2022-10-18 The Routledge Handbook of Methodologies in Human Geography is the defining reference for academics and postgraduate students seeking an advanced understanding of the debates methodological developments and methods transforming research in human geography Divided into three sections Part I reviews how the methods of contemporary human geography reflect the changing intellectual history of human geography and events both within human geography and society in general In Part II authors critically appraise key methodological and theoretical challenges and opportunities that are shaping contemporary research in various parts of human geography Contemporary directions within the discipline are elaborated on by established and emerging researchers who are leading ontological debates and the adoption of innovative methods in geographic research In Part III authors explore cross cutting methodological challenges and prompt questions about the values and goals underpinning geographical research work such as Who are we engaging in our research Who is our research for What are our relationships with communities Contributors emphasize examples from their research and the research of others to reflect the fluid emotional and pragmatic realities of research This handbook captures key methodological developments and disciplinary influences emerging from the various sub disciplines of human geography Tourist Behaviour and the Contemporary World Philip L. Pearce, 2011 This volume seeks to review and stimulate interest in a number of emerging and fresh topics in contemporary tourist behaviour and experience Topics explored include the effects of newer technologies on tourists behaviour and experience tourists experience of scams safety and personal responsibility individual perspectives on sustainability and some dimensions of tourists personal growth relationships and altruism Challenging the Orthodoxy Susan K. Schroeder, Lynne Chester, 2013-11-19 Political economy focuses on issues that are fundamental to individual and collective well being and rests on the proposition that economic phenomena do not occur in isolation from social and political processes One leading Australian political economist is Frank Stilwell Highlights of his work include concerns with the creation and use of wealth inequalities between rich and poor the spatial implications of economic growth and the tensions between economic growth and the environment Stilwell has been especially prominent in developing alternative economic policies with seminal contributions to understanding the radical shift in Australian economic and social policies since the early 1980s He has also been a leader in the teaching of political economy to many cohorts of first year university students This collection spanning these themes honours Stilwell's contribution to Australian political economy after more than 40 years teaching at the University of Sydney The book provides not only an opportunity to appreciate his contribution but also a greater understanding of these themes which remain of crucial contemporary relevance Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics David Block, John Gray, Marnie Holborow, 2013-03-01 This book explores neoliberalism a view of the world that puts the market at its centre from the perspective of applied linguistics Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics argues that while applied linguistics has become more interdisciplinary in orientation it has ignored or downplayed the role of political economy namely the way in which social political and economic factors relate to one another within the context of a capitalist economy The authors take the view that engagement with political economy is central to any fully rounded analysis of language and language related issues in the world today and their collaboration in this volume represents an initial attempt to redress what they perceive to be an imbalance in the field The book begins with a discussion of neoliberalism and an analysis of the ways in which neoliberal ideology impacts on language This is followed by a discussion of how globalization and identity have been conceptualised in applied linguistics in ways which have ignored the political centrality of class a concept which the authors see as integral to their perspective The book concludes with an analysis of the ways in which neoliberal ideology plays out in two key areas of applied linguistics language teaching and language teacher education Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics is essential reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in applied linguistics
