Imagining Japan in Post-war East Asia Paul Morris, Naoko Shimazu, Edward Vickers, 2014-03-26 In the decades since her defeat in the Second World War Japan has continued to loom large in the national imagination of many of her East Asian neighbours While for many Japan still conjures up images of rampant military brutality at different times and in different communities alternative images of the Japanese Other have vied for predominance in ways that remain poorly understood not least within Japan itself Imagining Japan in Postwar East Asia analyses the portrayal of Japan in the societies of East and Southeast Asia and asks how and why this has changed in recent decades and what these changing images of Japan reveal about the ways in which these societies construct their own identities It examines the role played by an imagined Japan in the construction of national selves across the East Asian region as mediated through a broad range of media ranging from school curricula and textbooks to film television literature and comics Commencing with an extensive thematic and comparative overview chapter the volume also includes contributions focusing specifically on Chinese societies the mainland PRC Hong Kong and Taiwan Korea the Philippines Malaysia and Singapore These studies show how changes in the representation of Japan have been related to political social and cultural shifts within the societies of East Asia and in particular to the ways in which these societies have imagined or constructed their own identities Bringing together contributors working in the fields of education anthropology history sociology political science and media studies this interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to all students and scholars concerned with issues of identity politics and culture in the societies of East Asia and to those seeking a deeper understanding of Japan s fraught relations with its regional neighbours

Literature Education in the Asia-Pacific Chin Ee Loh, Suzanne S. Choo, Catherine Beavis, 2018-03-29 The continual rise of English as a global lingua franca has meant that English literature both as a discipline and as a tool in ESL and EFL classrooms is being used in varied ways outside the inner circle of English This edited collection provides an overview of English literature education in the Asia Pacific in global times bringing to international attention a rich understanding of the trends issues and challenges specific to nations within the Asia Pacific region Comprising contributions from Australia China Hong Kong India Indonesia Malaysia Philippines Singapore and Vietnam the collection addresses the diversity of learners in different national cultural and teaching contexts In doing so it provides insights into historical and current trends in literature education foregrounds specific issues and challenges in policymaking and implementation presents practical matters concerning text selection use of literature in the language classroom innovative practices in literature education and raises pressing and important questions about the nature purpose and importance of literature education in global times Social Studies Education in East Asian Contexts Kerry J. Kennedy, 2020-07-28 The book explores the state of social studies education within selected East Asian societies and provides some insights into distinctive classroom practices In an increasingly volatile and unpredictable world the education of young people who both understand the contexts in which they are growing up and see the need for engaging with them is a top priority This task falls to social studies education which carries the responsibility for inducting young people into their social world and helping them to see the role they can play within it This is particularly important in East Asia where strong economic growth long held cultural values and diverse political systems create an environment that challenges young people on multiple fronts This book with its team of regional authors shows how different societies in the region are dealing with these challenges and what can be expected from future citizens The book will appeal to policy makers researchers and teachers interested in the current state of social studies education in East Asian societies Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published e g disabled Latino seniors etc few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written Thus the timely need for this book Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole this book has 24 separate chapters each on 24 specific Asian countries cultures of East Southeast and South Asia with a wealth of resources for understanding interacting with outreaching to and serving library users of each culture Resources include cultural guides both print and online language helps with sample library vocabulary Asian booksellers nationwide cultural groups professional literature and more Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries public school and academic making this book valuable for all librarians The demographics of each Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author's 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians History of Soybeans and Soyfoods in Southeast Asia (13th Century To 2010) William Shurtleff, Akiko Aoyagi, 2010-06 Covers Brunei Cambodia Indonesia Laos Malaysia Myanmar formerly Burma

Philippines Singapore Thailand Timor Leste Vietnam Handbook of Research on Pedagogical Innovations for Sustainable Development Thomas, Ken D., Muga, Helen E., 2014-03-31 Summary This book brings together case study examples in the fields of sustainability sustainable development and education for sustainable development Resources in Education ,1994-10 Reconceptualizing English Education in a Multilingual Society Isabel Pefianco Martin, 2018-03-01 This book brings together chapters that describe investigate and analyze the place of English in education in multilingual Philippines Unlike most studies on languages in education which take a neutral de contextualized stance this volume take a pluricentric view of the English language by positioning it in relation to its varieties as well as to other languages in the country Because of the changing realities of English in the Philippines traditional assumptions about the language as monolithic and unchanging as well as about how it should be taught and learned need to be revisited and re conceptualized

Ethics and International Curriculum Work Robert J. Helfenbein, Terrence C. Mason, 2012-08-01 The widely cited though highly contested idea that the world is flat Friedman 2004 carries with it a call for education to provide a leveling effect across continents and cultures Students in Skokie or in Skopje as the theory goes are expected to experience a school curriculum that shares certain common elements goals and purposes Such a globalized view is not however without its complications This book addresses some of the issues that arise when the transmigration of educational ideas occurs with a particular eye toward the ethical dilemmas that curriculum workers face in international contexts The authors who have contributed to this volume explore through case examples and critical reflection what happens when ideas that are drawn from one set of cultural norms and experiences is introduced into other cultural contexts In many cases these are the stories of donors and hosts of structured inequities of power and influence of disparities in material resources and as expressed in one of the cases the dynamics of the colonizer and the colonized A recurrent theme concerns the challenges faced by educators working internationally to reconcile their own ethical predispositions toward equity and cultural responsiveness with certain tacit assumptions about the appropriateness or value of curriculum practices brought from the developed world for teachers and students in the developing world How these dilemmas are navigated forms the content of this collection of reports from the field written by those who engage in this complex and important work While the content of this volume is situated at the intersection between the field of curriculum studies and comparative education it is fundamentally a book about curriculum Most of the authors come from various disciplinary backgrounds with specializations in curriculum development in content areas such as social studies geography or mathematics As outsiders looking in on the field of international education and with thoughtful reflections grounded in practice the authors provide a new set of insights into the challenges of international curriculum work Finally since many of the questions raised by the work included here are ethical in nature the book begins and ends with analyses that link the practical realities presented in the cases with contemporary philosophical thought This then can be seen as the primary contribution of the book to the educational literature as it offers a careful and well articulated synthesis of theory and practice in the field of international curriculum work This publication would make an important contribution to courses in curriculum theory and practice comparative and international education and international development outside of the field of education
