2010 Sec Curriculum Guide In Filipino 4:

School Mathematics Curricula Catherine P. Vistro-Yu, Tin Lam Toh, 2019-04-26 This book sheds light on school mathematics curricula in Asian countries including their design and the recent reforms that have been initiated. By discussing and analyzing various problematic aspects of curriculum development and implementation in a number of East and South Asian countries and offering insights into these countries' unique approaches to supplementing school mathematics curricula, it contributes to shaping effective policies for implementation, assessment and monitoring of curricula. The book covers a wide range of issues: curriculum design, localization of curricula, directions of curricular reforms, mathematics textbooks, assessment within the curriculum and teachers' professional development, which are of interest to a wide international audience.

Imagining Japan in Post-war East Asia Paul Morris, Naoko Shimazu, Edward Vickers, 2014-03-26 In the decades since her defeat in the Second World War, Japan has continued to loom large in the national imagination of many of her East Asian neighbours. While for many Japan still conjures up images of rampant military brutality at different times and in different communities, alternative images of the Japanese 'Other' have vied for predominance in ways that remain poorly understood, not least within Japan itself. Imagining Japan in Postwar East Asia analyses the portrayal of Japan in the societies of East and Southeast Asia and asks how and why this has changed in recent decades and what these changing images of Japan reveal about the ways in which these societies construct their own identities. It examines the role played by an imagined Japan in the construction of national selves across the East Asian region as mediated through a broad range of media ranging from school curricula and textbooks to film, television, literature and comics. Commencing with an extensive thematic and comparative overview, chapter by chapter the volume also includes contributions focusing specifically on Chinese societies, the mainland PRC, Hong Kong and Taiwan, Korea, the Philippines, Malaysia and Singapore. These studies show how changes in the representation of Japan have been related to political, social and cultural shifts within the societies of East Asia and in particular to the ways in which these societies have imagined or constructed their own identities. Bringing together contributors working in the fields of education, anthropology, history, sociology, political science and media studies, this interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to all students and scholars concerned with issues of identity, politics and culture in the societies of East Asia and to those seeking a deeper understanding of Japan's fraught relations with its regional neighbours.

Social Studies Education in East Asian Contexts Kerry J. Kennedy, 2020-07-28 The book explores the state of social studies education within selected East Asian societies and provides some insights into distinctive classroom practices. In an increasingly volatile and unpredictable world, the education of young people who both understand the contexts in which they are growing up and see the need for engaging with them is a top priority. This task falls to social studies education, which carries the responsibility for inducting young people into their social world and helping them to see the role they can play within it. This is particularly important in East Asia, where strong economic growth has long held cultural values and diverse political systems create an environment that challenges young people on multiple fronts This book with its team of regional authors shows how different societies in the region are dealing with these challenges and what can be expected from future citizens The book will appeal to policy makers researchers and teachers interested in the current state of social studies education in East Asian societies Literature Education in the Asia-Pacific Chin Ee Loh,Suzanne S. changing realities of English in the Philippines traditional assumptions about the language as monolithic and unchanging as well as about how it should be taught and learned need to be revisited and re conceptualized Asian English Language Classrooms Handoyo Puji Widodo,Alistair Wood,Deepti Gupta,2017-06-14 The teaching of English in the Asian context is always challenging and dynamic because both teachers and learners have diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds Equally important where English is not widely used outside the classroom English language classrooms are an authentic site of learner engagement For these reasons for all those concerned with contemporary English language teaching ELT in Asia Asian English Language Classrooms Where Theory and Practice Meet provides an account of theoretical orientations and practices in the teaching of English to multilingual speakers whose primary language is not English While covering the fundamental ELT areas e g the teaching of language skills educational literature the use of technology in ELT the role of pragmatics in ELT social psychology of the language classroom and language classroom management with which every language teacher and teacher trainer must be concerned this volume showcases how particular orientations shape ELT practices We believe that practicing English teachers must have a heightened awareness of the theory behind their practice At the same time the theoretical stance must be firmly anchored in actual classrooms Containing newly commissioned chapters written by well regarded and emerging scholars this book will appeal not only to beginning teachers or teachers in training but also to established teachers around Asia where English is used as a lingua franca If you are a student teacher of English or an English teacher who would like to see what other progressive teachers like you are doing across Asia this is the book you have been looking for
