The Future of God in the Global Village Thomas R. McFaul, 2011-10-11 In the long trek of human history, the adage that there will never be peace among the nations until there is peace among the religions has never been truer. The growing trend toward spiritually inspired violence throughout the emerging global village of the twenty-first century has taken a terrible toll on the lives of thousands of innocent victims. The primary purpose of this book is to address this issue head-on by examining the role that the earth's diverse faith communities can play in stopping the needless hatreds and hostilities that all too often arise from the search for spiritual fulfillment. At this stage of human evolution, nothing is more urgent.

City of 201 Gods Jacob Olupona, 2011-12-13 Olupona does a masterful job of interweaving historical detail, personal interviews, and observations. Here, myth becomes lived reality, and one is forced to take pause and ask what and where, indeed, are the true powers that enable humans to inhabit the modern city.

Charles H. Long, author of Significations: Signs, Symbols, and Images in the Interpretation of Religion. This book is destined to be the authoritative source on one of the most important religious centers and one of the most fascinating ethnic groups in sub-Saharan Africa. This is a remarkable and engaging piece of research by a first-class scholar who knows his discipline and his native culture.

Barry Hallen, author of The Good, the Bad, and the Beautiful: Discourse About Values in Yoruba Culture.

Representing Religion Tim Murphy, 2014-12-05 If religion is continually in a state of flux, how can the study of religion critically examine contemporary religious beliefs and values? Representing Religion critically examines this crisis of representation. The volume traces the history of religious studies, critiquing the concept that experience is central to understanding religion. The views of influential semioticians and philosophers, notably Nietzsche, Saussure, Foucault, Barthes, and Bakhtin, are used to construct a new methodology for the critical study of religion. Representing Religion will be of interest to students and scholars of semiotics as well as theory and method in religious studies.
