Ancient Egyptian Beads Nai Xia, 2014-06-03. This book presents a detailed analysis and thorough study of the unique collection of Ancient Egyptian beads in the Petrie Museum of Egyptian Archaeology in London. The book first discusses the archaeological value of beads and the method employed in the study of them, especially emphasizing the importance of the technique of bead making for dating purposes. It then examines and evaluates various schemes for the classification of beads. The book goes on to propose a new classification system and works out a comprehensive corpus of beads with the aid of sixteen plates. Next, the book features a chronological survey that details the material typology, including the technical peculiarities, use, arrangement, and pictorial representation of beads throughout the nine divisions or periods of Ancient Egyptian history. This survey points out the characteristics of each period as well as any contact Egypt may have experienced with foreign countries as shown by the beads. It also corrects much wrong identification of materials and mistaken datings. This book is based on the Ph.D. dissertation written by pioneering Chinese archaeologist Xia Nai when he studied in London College University some 70 years ago and who had direct access to considerable firsthand resources at the forefront of Egyptology research. It represents a crucial and long-awaited advance in archaeology, not only for Egypt but for the study of the past across Africa and beyond.

The Materiality of Texts from Ancient Egypt, 2018-10-08. The volume The Materiality of Texts from Ancient Egypt contains nine contributions from well-known papyrologists, Egyptologists, archaeologists, and technical specialists. They discuss the materiality of ancient writing and writing supports in various ways through methodological considerations and through practical case studies from the early Pharaonic to the Late Antique periods in Egypt including Greek and Egyptian papyri and ostraca inscriptions and graffiti The articles in this volume present new approaches to the study of textual material and scribal practice especially in the light of the ongoing development of digital techniques that uncover new information from ancient writing materials The aim of the book is to encourage researchers of ancient texts to consider the benefits of using these new methods and technological resources
