Irish-American Autobiography James Silas Rogers, 2016 Irish American Autobiography opens a new window on the shifting meanings of Irishness over the twentieth century by looking at a range of works that have never before been considered as a distinct body of literature Opening with celebrity memoirs from athletes like boxer John L. Sullivan and ballplayer Connie Mack written when the Irish were eager to put their raffish origins behind them later chapters trace the many tensions often unspoken registered by Irish Americans who've told their life stories New York saloonkeepers and South Boston step dancers set themselves against the larger culture setting a pattern of being on the outside looking in Even the classic 1950s TV comedy The Honeymooners speaks to the urban Irish origins and the poignant sense of exclusion felt by its creator Jackie Gleason Catholicism so key to the identity of earlier generations of Irish Americans has also evolved One chapter looks at the painful diffidence of priest autobiographers and others reveal how traditional Irish Catholic ideas of the guardian angel and pilgrimage have evolved and stayed potent down to our own time Irish American Autobiography becomes in the end a story of a continued search for connection documenting an ethnic fade that never quite happened

Living Autobiographically Paul John Eakin,2011-03-15 Autobiography is naturally regarded as an art of retrospect but making autobiography is equally part of the fabric of our ongoing experience We tell the stories of our lives piecemeal and these stories are not merely about our selves but also an integral part of them In this way we live autobiographically we have narrative identities In this book noted life writing scholar Paul John Eakin explores the intimate dynamic connection between our selves and our stories between narrative and identity in everyday life He draws on a wide range of autobiographical writings from work by Jonathan Franzen Mary Karr and Andr Aciman to the New York Times series Portraits of Grief memorializing the victims of 9 11 as well as the latest insights into identity formation from the fields of developmental psychology cultural anthropology and neurobiology In his account the self fashioning in which we routinely even automatically engage is largely conditioned by social norms and biological necessities We are taught by others how to say who we are while at the same time our sense of self is shaped decisively by our lives in and as bodies For Eakin autobiography is always an act of self determination no matter what the circumstances and he stresses its adaptive value as an art that helps to anchor our shifting selves in time
