America S Lost Identity:

Immigration and National Identities in Latin America Nicola Foote, Michael Goebel, 2016-12-10 This groundbreaking study examines the connection between what are arguably the two most distinguishing phenomena of the modern world the unprecedented surges in global mobility and in the creation of politically bounded spaces and identities Jose C Moya author of Cousins and Strangers An excellent collection of studies connecting transnational migration to the construction of national identities Highly recommended Luis Roniger author of Transnational Politics in Central America The importance of this collection goes beyond the confines of one geographic region as it offers new insight into the role of migration in the definition and redefinition of nation states everywhere Fraser Ottanelli coeditor of Letters from the Spanish Civil War This volume has set the standard for future work to follow Daniel Masterson author of The History of Peru Between the mid nineteenth and mid twentieth centuries an influx of Europeans Asians and Arabic speakers indelibly changed the face of Latin America While many studies of this period focus on why the immigrants came to the region this volume addresses how the newcomers helped construct national identities in the Caribbean Mexico Argentina and Brazil In these essays some of the most respected scholars of migration history examine the range of responses some welcoming some xenophobic to the newcomers They also look at the lasting effects that Jewish German Chinese Italian and Syrian immigrants had on the economic sociocultural and political institutions These explorations of assimilation race formation and transnationalism enrich our understanding not only of migration to Latin America but also of the impact of immigration on the construction of national identity throughout the world Contributors J rgen Buchenau Jeane DeLaney Nicola Foote Michael Goebel Steven Hyland Jr Jeffrey Lesser Kathleen L pez Lara Putnam Raanan Rein Stefan Rinke Frederik Schulze

Translation and Identity in the Americas Edwin Gentzler, 2012-11-12 Translation is a highly contested site in the Americas where different groups often with competing literary or political interests vie for space and approval In its survey of these multiple and competing groups and its study of the geographic socio political and cultural aspects of translation Edwin Gentzler s book demonstrates that the Americas are a fruitful terrain for the field of translation studies Building on research from a variety of disciplines including cultural studies linguistics feminism and ethnic studies and including case studies from Brazil Canada and the Caribbean this book shows that translation is one of the primary means by which a culture is constructed translation in the Americas is less something that happens between separate and distinct cultures and more something that is capable of establishing those very cultures Using a variety of texts and addressing minority and oppressed groups within cultures Translation and Identity in the Americas highlights by example the cultural role translation policies play in a discriminatory process the consequences of which can be social marginalization loss of identity and psychological trauma Translation and Identity the Americas will be critical reading for students and scholars of Translation Studies Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies

reception in America highlighting the existence of a long and strong tradition of Fichtean studies throughout the continent and demonstrating the centrality of Fichtean ideas in contemporary discussions of issues such as feminism social criticism and decolonial thought Read and reinterpreted in the highly diverse circumstances across the American continent Fichte's ideas are presented in a radically new light uncovering the Fichtean spirit of self activity and autonomous thought in an American context

Constructing Power: A Critical and Constructivist Theory Using the American Case Kirby L. Wedekind, 2025-02-28 This book asserts that there exists a causal relationship between identity interest and the exercise of power The work defines power as the ability to satisfy oneself which makes power contingent upon belief It also dissects the concepts of identity interest and power to reveal how each works and relate to the others This analysis creates a new theory of power using constructivism informed by critical theory departing from neorealist and neoliberal perspectives The work uses the United States to test the theory by examining US national identity interest and exercises of power A deconstruction of American Exceptionalism proceeds three case studies and runs as a theme to connect each unifying the work A military operation in 2016 against the Islamic State in Libya the 2014 Russian annexation of Crimea and the whiplash caused by US participation in the 2015 Paris Agreement serve as the three case studies for analyzing US identity interest and power through the theory This work proposes a new way of understanding power based on constructivism and informed by critical theory that applies to interpersonal and international relationships Every relation is a power relation and power is the ability to satisfy oneself This book provides insight into the underlying causes and machinations that transpire within every kind of social relation This is a significant shift in how power is understood and applied in politics the military business and interpersonal relationships This book seeks to provide the reader with greater and clearer understanding of themselves the world in which they live and why it exists as such
