The Cinematographer's Voice Lindsay Coleman, Roberto Schaefer, 2022-06-01 The Cinematographer's Voice is a unique exploration of contemporary filmmaking and cinematography The distillation of more than one hundred interviews with cinematographers from around the world and the product of a decade's worth of scholarship the book is not only a collection of interviews with some of the world's leading cinematographers but also a panoramic sweep of what image making means in the era of digital cinema Frequently cinematography may seem intimidating as a discipline the preserve solely of practitioners who have learned through years of exposure to photographic technology both the required jargon and background knowledge to comfortably engage with an often technical field In our present era of film studies this is no longer the case The interviews collected here are informative not only on matters of technique but also on the ways in which practitioners formulate their methodologies work with directors and engage with the many logistical hurdles of visual storytelling The result is an oral history of the past forty years of filmmaking and the cinematography it has produced The VES Handbook of Visual Effects Susan Zwerman, Jeffrey A. technological transition In Practices of Projection Histories and Technologies volume editors Gabriel Menotti and Virginia Crisp address the cultural and technological significance of projection Throughout the volume chapters reiterate that projection cannot and must not be reduced to its cinematic functions alone Borrowing media theorist Siegfried Zielinski's definition Menotti and Crisp refer to projection as the heterogeneous array of artefacts technical systems and particularly visual praxes of experimentation and of culture From this readers can understand the performative character of the moving image and the labor of the different actors involved in the utterance of the film text Projection is not the same everywhere nor equal all the time Its systems are in permanent interaction with environmental circumstances neighboring structures local cultures and social economies Thus the idea of projection as a universal fully autonomous operation cannot hold Each occurrence of projection adds nuance to a wider understanding of film screening technologies The Filmmaker's
