Discipline Problems Tadashi Dozono, 2024-05-07 Angel a Black tenth grader at a New York City public school self identifies as a nerd and likes to learn But she's troubled that her history classes leave out events like the genocide and dispossession of Indigenous people in the Americas presenting a sugar coated image of the United States that is at odds with her everyday experience The history I learned in school is simpler she says The world I live in is a lot more complex Angel like every student interviewed in Discipline Problems has been identified by teachers as a troublemaker a student whose behavior disrupts classroom norms and interferes with instruction But her critiques of the curriculum she's taught speak to her curiosity and insight crucial foundations for understanding history Like many students who have been marginalized by systemic racism in American schools she exposes the shortcomings of her classrooms academic environments by challenging both the content and the methods of her education All too often these challenges are framed as troublemaking and the students are disciplined for acting out instead of being rewarded for their intellectual engagement Tadashi Dozono a professor of education and former high school social studies teacher takes seriously the often overlooked critiques that students of color who get labeled as troublemakers direct toward their high school history curriculum He reinterprets troublemaking usually cast as a behavioral deficit as an intellectual asset and form of reasoning that challenges the disciplining reason of classrooms where whiteness is valued over the histories and knowledge of people of color Dozono shows how what are traditionally framed as discipline problems can be seen through a different lens as responses to educational practices that marginalize non white students Discipline Problems reveals how students of color seek out alternate avenues for understanding their world and imagines a pedagogy that champions the curiosity intellect and knowledge of marginalized learners

Helping Children Learn Mathematics Robert Reys, Mary Lindquist, Diana V. Lambdin, Nancy L. Smith, 2014-10-20 The 11th Edition of Helping Children Learn Mathematics is designed to help those who are or will be teachers of mathematics in elementary schools help children develop understanding and proficiency with mathematics so they can solve problems This text is built around three main themes helping children make sense of mathematics incorporating practical experiences and using research to guide teaching It also integrates connections and implications from the Common Core Standards Mathematics CCSS M Most Likely to Succeed Tony Wagner, Ted Dintersmith, 2015-08-18 An urgent call for the radical re imagining of American education so that we better equip students for the realities of the twenty first century Spatial Networking in the United Physical, Virtual, and Mental World Peter S. Sapaty, 2024-06-29 The current book chooses graphs and networks as primary and global research objectives after reviewing different types and areas of networking and existing works on graph and network operations The ideas of this book originate from the WAVE approach which allowed us more than half a century ago to implement citywide heterogeneous computer networks and solve distributed problems on them in flexible and mobile way The invented management paradigm evolved into Spatial Grasp Technology resulted in European patent and nine previous books oriented on concrete applications in social and defense systems security crises management collective robotics space research and others Many obtained results were dealing with graph and network structures and problems which were extremely important in the researched areas It aims at development of higher level social infrastructures effectively integrating different types of networking under the same universal approach also application of networking in new areas like organoids and brain research This book is oriented toward system scientists application programmers industry managers university students philosophers psychologists and United Nations personnel too Regents Physics--Physical Setting Power Pack Revised Edition Barron's Educational Series, Miriam A.
