Alif The Unseen English Edition:

Alif the Unseen G. Willow Wilson, 2012-09-01 LONGLISTED FOR THE WOMEN'S PRIZE FOR FICTION 2013 I will tell you a story but it comes with a warning when you hear it you will become someone else He calls himself Alif few people know his real name a young man born in a Middle Eastern city that straddles the ancient and modern worlds When Alif meets the aristocratic Intisar he believes he has found love But their relationship has no future Intisar is promised to another man and her family's honour must be satisfied As a remembrance Intisar sends the heartbroken Alif a mysterious book Entitled The Thousand and One Days Alif discovers that this parting gift is a door to another world a world from a very different time when old magic was in the ascendant and the djinn walked amongst us With the book in his hands Alif finds himself drawing attention far too much attention from both men and djinn Thus begins an adventure that takes him through the crumbling streets of a once beautiful city to uncover the long forgotten mysteries of the Unseen Alif is about to become a fugitive in both the corporeal and incorporeal worlds And he is about to unleash a destructive power that will change everything and everyone starting with Alif himself Wilson works magic an exuberant fable that has thrills chills and even more remarkably universal appeal Janet Maslin The New York Times Fantasy Brian Attebery, 2022 Fantasy has become a dominant mode of storytelling and it mirrors our experiences and anxieties better than any representation of the merely real This book poses two central questions about fantastic storytelling how can it be meaningful if it doesn't claim to represent things as they are and what kind of change can it make in the world The Cambridge Companion to American Utopian Literature and Culture since 1945 Sherryl Vint, 2024-05-16 Providing a comprehensive overview of American thought in the period following World War II after which the US became a global military and economic leader this book explores the origins of American utopianism and provides a trenchant critique from the point of view of those left out of the hegemonic ideal Centring the voices of those oppressed by or omitted from the consumerist American Dream this book celebrates alternative ways of thinking about how to create a better world through daily practices of generosity justice and care The chapters collected here emphasize utopianism as a practice of social transformation not as a literary genre depicting a putatively perfect society and urgently make the case for why we need utopian thought today With chapters on climate change economic justice technology and more alongside chapters exploring utopian traditions outside Western frameworks this book opens a new discussion in utopian thought and theory Make-Believe David Dickinson, 2020-01-01 I will tell you a story that will make you believe in God No story can guarantee being able to do this Yet novelists can tell stories that make us think about what we believe about God and why Despite repeated predictions of the death of the novel thousands of works of fiction are published and read in Britain each year Although Western society is less religiously observant than it was many 21st century novelists persist in pursuing theological religious and spiritual themes Make Believe seeks to explain why With chapters offering analyses of novels from several genres so called literary fiction historical fiction science fiction fantasy and dystopia

David Dickinson discusses a wide spectrum of novelists Both those who are avowedly atheistic and those who have a vested interest in perpetuating biblical stories feature Well known writers such as Rushdie McEwan McCarthy and Martell rub shoulders with some you may be meeting for the first time Appealing to literature students and people who simply enjoy reading whether Christian or not this study of God in novels invites us to open our minds and allow aspects of our culture to shape our understanding of God and to change our ways of talking about the divine

Approaches to Teaching the Thousand and One Nights Paulo Lemos Horta, 2023-10-10 The Thousand and One Nights composed in Arabic from the eighth to the fourteenth centuries is one of the world's most widely circulated and influential collections of stories To help instructors introduce the tales to students this volume provides historical context and discusses the many transformations of the stories in a variety of cultures Among the topics covered are the numerous translations and their impact on the tales reception various genres represented by the tales gender race and slavery and adaptations of the stories in films graphic novels and other media across the world and under conditions of both imperialism and postcolonialism The essays serve instructors in subjects such as medieval literature world literature and Middle and Near Eastern studies and make a case for teaching the Thousand and One Nights in courses on identity and race

The Necessity of Young Adult Fiction Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2023 Using the figure of the monster as an interpretive lens across a wide range of fiction this book shows how young adult fiction contributes to the cultural conversation by offering new ways of thinking about climate change and definitions of citizenship

Public Religions in the Future World David Morris, 2021-12-01 Public Religions in the Future World is the first book to map the utopian terrain of the political religious movements of the past four decades Examining a politically diverse set of utopian fictions this book cuts across the usual Right Left political divisions to show a surprising convergence each political religious vision imagines a revived world of care and community over and against the economization and fragmentation of neoliberalism Understanding these religions as utopian movements in reaction to neoliberalism Public Religions invites us to rethink the bases of religious identification and practice Offering new insights on texts from the Left Behind series to the novels of Octavia Butler Public Religions shows that the utopian energy of the present opens new opportunities for political organizing and genuine lasting community building Public Religions in the Future World presents a literary history of the political religious present arguing that the power of public religion lies in the utopian visions that underlie religious beliefs It shows that contemporary literary utopianism is deeply inflected with religious ideas with the visions values and ambitions of Christianity Islam nature mysticism and other traditions Further Public Religions demonstrates that this utopianism's religiosity is in turn politically inflected that it resonates with and underwrites a range of competing political projects those of imperialism globalization neoliberal capitalism deep ecology and the pro migration movement David Morris constructs a working theory of how religion makes large scale interventions in political debates The novels in his study draw on religious traditions to articulate visions programs or missions for achieving some version of an improved world In doing so they undertake the work of literary postmodernism to represent globality to recover the voices of the underrepresented and to imagine a future that escapes the destructiveness of global capitalism

English Translation of the Holy Quran Maulana Muhammad Ali, 2011-01-19 Language updated and notes abridged by the Editor The English translation of the Holy Quran with extensive explanatory footnotes by Maulana Muhammad Ali d 1951 was first published in 1917 Due to changes in the usage and teaching of English in the second half of the twentieth century such a reader today is much less familiar with certain forms and styles of literary expression used in the translation than was the case with previous generations To bring the language closer to the general readership it became necessary to replace some expressions by more modern forms This has been my aim in producing the present updated version of the translation

The Routledge Companion to Global Literary Adaptation in the Twenty-First Century Brandon Chua, Elizabeth Ho, 2023-03-10 The Routledge Companion to Global Literary Adaptation in the Twenty First Century offers new perspectives on contemporary literary adaptation as a dynamically global field Featuring contributions from an international team of established and emerging scholars this volume considers literary adaptation to be a complex global network of influences appropriations and audiences across a diversity of media It offers site specific case studies that situate literary adaptation within global market forces while challenging the homogenizing effects of globalization on local literatures and adaptation practices The collection also provides a multi disciplinary and transnational discussion around a wide array of topics in literary adaptation in a global context such as soft power decolonization global justice the posthuman eco criticism and forms of activism This Companion provides scholars researchers and students with a survey of key methodologies current debates and ideologies emerging from a new and exciting phase in literary adaptation

The Speculative Route Merve Tabur, Sami Ahmad Khan, 2025-08-29 The Speculative Route explores speculative traditions and science fictional modes across South and Southwest Asia and North Africa SSWANA examining their historical connections inter and intra regional entanglements overlaps and differences Conceptualizing science fiction and fantasy SFF as a mode rather than a genre this volume challenges the putative boundaries between literary and genre fiction through critical studies and essays focusing on SFF from Bangladesh Egypt India Iran Pakistan Palestine Sri Lanka and Turkey It demonstrates the ways in which science fictional modes of thinking and imagination function as critical tools for addressing social cultural and political issues beyond genre conventions and expectations Bringing together articles by leading scholars of SFF and think pieces by acclaimed authors of contemporary SF this volume focuses on central themes such as the relationship between aesthetics and politics alterity world building memory trauma colonialism and decolonization ecology gender religion and mythopoetics It engages with the past present and future of speculative traditions in SSWANA and compares the visions that emerge from these seemingly disparate but historically connected entities Part of the Studies in Global Genre Fiction series this volume will be of great interest to academics students and practitioners in the fields of genre studies notably SF SFF comparative literature media and popular culture area studies postcolonial studies and future studies as well as to readers who are interested in exploring SFF works from the Global South
