Cursed Masks Gabriel Barnes,AI,2025-02-27 Cursed Masks explores the captivating intersection of history and spirituality through the lens of masks believed to harbor spiritual forces or bring misfortune Diving into cultural beliefs and folklore the book reveals how masks beyond their physical form have been perceived as conduits for the occult and concealed identity From ancient rituals to modern interpretations masks reflect humanity s enduring fascination with hidden realms and the darker aspects of the human psyche The book deconstructs the idea of inherent power in masks arguing that their perceived potency stems from deeply ingrained cultural beliefs and psychological projections It progresses systematically beginning with foundational concepts of mask symbolism across cultures then moves into case studies of masks associated with malevolent forces Finally it culminates in an analysis of the psychological underpinnings of these beliefs revealing how masks tap into primal fears and desires

Ebony Mask / Ebony Gold Wallace B. Collins,2003-03-22 Years ago I met a friend in London I had not seen in many years He posed a very interesting question to me He wanted me to give him a statement on Jomo Kenyatta who was then incarcerated as the leader of the Mau Mau uprising in Kenya Though I did not have an answer for my friend I kept his question in my mind Then years later my wife and I decided to visit Kenya on Safari with friends which I recount here vividly in this book They were like two birds set free hoop the coop flew away from their prison abode caged for decades until February 1990 on that sunny day in Capetown when I saw Nelson Mandella live on CNN Television with his wife Winnie Mandela They strolled through the gates of pollsmore Prison away from 37 years of incarceration by the Apartheid Regime That experience intrigued me enough that my wife and I decided with a group of friends to visit South Africa and see what would happen to us as a group of African Americans it was while there that I touched yellow Ebony Gold as detailed in my book

Jaguar's Shadow Richard Mahler, 2009-09-01 When the nature writer Richard Mahler discovers that wild jaguars are prowling a remote corner of his home state of New Mexico he embarks on a determined quest to see in the flesh a big beautiful cat that is the stuff of legend yet verifiably real Mahler's passion sets in motion a years long adventure through trackless deserts steamy jungles and malarial swamps as well as a confounding immersion in centuries old debates over how we should properly regard these powerful predators as varmints or as icons trophies or gods He is drawn from border badlands south to Panama's rain forest along a route where the fate of nearly all wildlife now rests in human hands Mahler's odyssey introduces him to unrepentant poachers pragmatic ranchers midnight drug runners ardent conservationists trance induced shamans hopeful biologists stodgy bureaucrats academic philosophers macho hunters and gentle Maya Indians Along the way he is forced to reconsider the true meaning of his search and the enduring symbolism of the jaguar The Death of Authentic Primitive Art Shelly Errington, 2023-09-01 In this lucid witty and forceful book Shelly Errington argues that Primitive Art was invented as a new type of art object at the beginning of the twentieth century but that now at the century's end it has died a double but contradictory death Authenticity and primitivism both attacked by cultural critics have died as concepts At the same time the penetration of nation states the tourist industry and transnational corporations into regions that formerly produced these artifacts has severely reduced supplies of primitive art bringing about a second death Errington argues that the construction of the primitive in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and the kinds of objects chosen to exemplify it must be understood as a product of discourses of progress from the nineteenth century European narrative of technological progress to the twentieth century narrative of modernism to the late twentieth century narrative of the triumph of the free market In Part One she charts a provocative argument ranging through the worlds of museums art theorists mail order catalogs boutiques tourism and world events tracing a loosely historical account of the transformations of meanings of primitive art in this century In Part Two she explores an eclectic collection of public sites in Mexico and Indonesia a national museum of anthropology a cultural theme park an airport and a ninth century Buddhist monument newly refurbished to show how the idea of the primitive can be used in the interests of promoting nationalism and economic development Errington's dissection of discourses about progress and primitivism in the contemporary world is both a lively introduction to anthropological studies of art institutions and a dramatic new contribution to the growing field of cultural studies
