Jonathan M. Marks, 2018 In The Alternative Introduction to Biological Anthropology Second Edition author Jonathan Marks presents an innovative framework for thinking about the major issues in the field with fourteen original essays designed to correlate to the core chapters in standard textbooks Each chapter draws on and complements but does not reconstitute except for the sake of clarity the major data and ideas presented in standard texts Marks explores such topics as how we make sense of data about our origins where our modern ideas come from our inability to separate natural facts from cultural facts and values as we try to understand ourselves and the social and political aspects of science as a culturally situated mental activity Science John Michels (Journalist), 1893 AN INTRODUCTION TO BIOLOGY GEORGE GAYLORD SIMPSON AND WILLIAM S. BECK, 1969 Cell Biology and Genetics Cecie Starr, Ralph Taggart, Christine A. The Territories of Science and Religion Peter Harrison, 2015-04-06 Peter Harrison takes what we think we know about science and religion dismantles it and puts it back together again in a provocative new way It is a mistake to assume as most do that the activities and achievements that are usually labeled religious and scientific have been more or less enduring features of the cultural landscape of the West Harrison by setting out the history of science and religion to see when and where they come into being and to trace their mutations over time reveals how distinctively Western and modern they are Only in the past few hundred years have religious beliefs and practices been bounded by a common notion and set apart from the secular And the idea of the natural sciences as discrete activities conducted in isolation from religious and moral concerns is even more recent dating from the nineteenth century Putting the so called opposition between religion and science into historical perspective as Harrison does here for the first time has profound implications for our understanding of the present and future relations between them Departments of Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare
