Fated Love Sandy Raven, 2019-09-13 Lady Adina Countess Rathcavan thinks it's time her grandson took a bride not just because there was no heir to the crumbling pile of stones that was her home but since the explosion at his mill their finances were strapped even further The young man needed an heiress but he had only one lady in mind and she was as elusive as the sun in winter With Adina's seventy fifth birthday approaching she decided to help her grandson by bringing his chosen lass Lady Isabel Halden to Rathcavan And since the lady was friends with her great niece Penelope Adina could reunite her favorite relative with the man who unwillingly broke her heart when he was sent on a mission to Afghanistan Lastly if she could match that soft hearted giant Eamon Gowrey with the statuesque Brightman lass Adina would be extra pleased with herself All three ladies come from good families and had more than sufficient dowries But more importantly for Adina they would appreciate and continue her stud long after she was gone A month long house party with a ball a fox hunt moonlit walks in the garden and more all bring the three couples closer After an accident almost takes the life of one heiress the three ladies vow to do everything in their power to stay together always And the way they wished to start this new life was by sharing their wedding day with each other if they can convince their new husbands of it Notes and Queries ,1891

Notes and Queries: a Medium of Inter-communication for Literary Men, Artists, Antiquaries, Genealogists, Etc ,1892 The Way We Live Now Anthony Trollope,2015-10-30 Let the reader be introduced to Lady Carbury upon whose character and doings much will depend of whatever interest these pages may have as she sits at her writing table in her own room in her own house in Welbeck Street Lady Carbury spent many hours at her desk and wrote many letters wrote also very much beside letters She spoke of herself in these days as a woman devoted to Literature always spelling the word with a big L Something of the nature of her devotion may be learned by the perusal of three letters which on this morning she had written with a quickly running hand Lady Carbury was rapid in everything and in nothing more rapid than in the writing of letters Here is Letter No 1 Thursday Welbeck Street Dear Friend I have taken care that you shall have the early sheets of my two new volumes to morrow or Saturday at latest so that you may if so minded give a poor struggler like myself a lift in your next week s paper Do give a poor struggler a lift You and I have so much in common and I have ventured to flatter myself that we are really friends I do not flatter you when I say that not only would aid from you help me more than from any other quarter but also that praise from you would gratify my vanity more than any other praise I almost think you will like my Criminal Queens The sketch of Semiramis is at any rate spirited though I had to twist it about a little to bring her in guilty Cleopatra of course I have taken from Shakespeare What a wench she was I could not quite make Julia a queen but it was impossible to pass over so piquant a character You will recognise in the two or three ladies of the empire how faithfully I have studied my Gibbon Poor dear old Belisarius I have done the best I could with Joanna but I could not bring myself to care for her In our days she would simply have gone to Broadmore I hope you will not think that I have been too strong in my delineations of Henry VIII and his sinful but unfortunate Howard I don t care a bit about Anne Boleyn I am afraid that I have been tempted into too great length about the Italian Catherine but in truth she has been my favourite What a woman What a devil Pity that a second Dante could not have constructed for her a special hell How one traces the effect of her training in the life of our Scotch Mary I trust you will go with me in my view as to the Queen of Scots Guilty guilty always Adultery murder treason and all the rest of it But recommended to mercy because she was royal A queen bred born and married and with such other queens around her how could she have escaped to be guilty Marie Antoinette I have not quite acquitted It would be uninteresting perhaps untrue I have accused her lovingly and have kissed when I scourged I trust the British public will not be angry because I do not whitewash Caroline especially as I go along with them altogether in abusing her husband
