This is the analysis of a population so you will be discussing the 372 class data rather than individual data. There are two purposes to this lab. One, to evaluate how effective the primers you designed were at amplifying the desired fragment. Two, to evaluate whether the Alu alleles at the TPA-25 locus for the class are in genetic equilibrium. Please remember to discuss both in your reports. The class data for SPRING 2023 will be added to the BIOL 372 over the last number of years. You can compare how the SP23 class data compares to the combined BIOL 372 data.
