Universities in the Knowledge Society Timo Aarrevaara, Martin Finkelstein, Glen A. Jones, Jisun Jung, 2021-09-28 Springer is proud to announce that Universities in the Knowledge Society has received the ASHE CIHE award for Significant Research on International Higher Education Congratulations to Timo Aarrevaara Martin Finkelstein Glen A Jones Jisun Jung and all contributors This book explores the complex multi faceted relationships between national research and innovation systems and higher education The transition towards knowledge societies economies is repositioning the role of the university and transforming the academic profession The volume provides a foundational introduction to the concepts of knowledge society and knowledge economy and these concepts ground the detailed case studies of eighteen systems located across five continents Each case study was written by a leading expert in that jurisdiction and provides a critical analysis of the research and development infrastructure the role of universities and the implications for the academic profession The book describes how nations in various geographic regions and at various stages of economic maturity are restructuring their university systems to adapt to the new imperatives and provides a cross case analysis identifying common themes and distinctive features In telling the story of higher education s on going global metamorphosis the contributing authors place current developments in the context of the university s historic evolution survey the changing metrics that national governments are adopting to measure university performance and describe a new international project the Academic Profession in the Knowledge based Society APiKS that involved a common survey of academics in more than twenty countries to take the pulse of developments on the ground while documenting the challenges confronting knowledge workers in the new economy

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new. This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects. First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project. Second, previous books and reports were published mid-project. This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large-scale project. For the first time, some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees. Different does not necessarily mean new. An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor-funded project. Rather, each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities, research, and development in Africa.

Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 3) Union of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-08-20. The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non-profit international organizations currently available.
