

Higher Art and Design Essay Plan – Part 2 Contemporary Artist

Discuss examples of still life by two artists from different movements or periods. To what extent do you consider these examples to be typical of each artist's style or associated movement? Explain why they are considered important artists.

Up to now you have looked at Matisse (a member of the Fauvist movement) and the Scottish Colourists. These are artists who have an important link and who all worked during a similar time period (early 20th Century).

Your task now is to research a modern still life artist who has worked within the last 25 years. You will find and research this artist yourself. Word count should be approximately 400 – 500 words.

You will work through the same process as you did before, finding two examples of their work and discussing them. Use the other sheets you have to remind yourself of what to do.

Make sure that any artist you select has enough biographical information available and information on what influences and inspires them. This information is very important! You must also find two decent images of their work which includes information such as date created, media used etc.

When writing about your contemporary artist you should discuss what you think might have influenced their work.

Once you have completed this you are to compare your modern artist with either Matisse or your chosen Scottish Colourist. Do not use both!

Remember it is important that you include your own personal opinions when discussing the work of your artists! Always give reasons to support your thoughts and opinions!

Essays on the Intellectual Powers of the Human Mind to Which are Added an Essay on Quantity and an Analysis of Aristoteles Logic Thomas Reid, 1827 Essays on the Powers of the Human Mind Thomas Reid, 1827 The Builder, 1859

Resources in Education, 2001 Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length. The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities, various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons, aphorisms, individual major works, notable writers, and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays. The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch, nationality, era, selected writings, list of additional readings, and anthologies.

Art-union, 1841 Musical Meaning and Human Values Keith Moore Chapin, Lawrence Kramer, 2009 Musical understanding has evolved dramatically in recent years, principally through a heightened appreciation of musical meaning in its social, cultural, and philosophical dimensions. This collection of essays by leading scholars addresses an aspect of meaning that has not yet received its due: the relation of meaning in this broad humanistic sense to the shaping of fundamental values. The volume examines the open and active circle between the values and valuations placed on music by both individuals and societies and the discovery through music of what and how to value. With a combination of cultural criticism and close readings of musical works, the contributors demonstrate repeatedly that to make music is also to make value in every sense. They give particular attention to values that have historically enabled music to assume a formative role in human societies: to foster practices of contemplation, fantasy, and irony; to explore sexuality, subjectivity, and the uncanny; and to articulate longings for unity with nature and for moral certainty. Each essay in the collection shows in its own way how music may provoke transformative reflection in its listeners and thus help guide humanity to its own essential embodiment in the world. The range of topics is broad and developed with an eye both to the historical specificity of values and to the variety of their possible incarnations. The music is both canonical and noncanonical, old and new. Although all of it is classical, the contributors' treatment of it yields conclusions that apply well beyond the classical sphere. The composers discussed include Gabrieli, Monteverdi, Haydn, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Wagner, Puccini, Hindemith, Schreker, and Henze. Anyone interested in music as it is studied today will find this volume an essential reading.
