Network Economics and the Allocation of Savings

Philipp Servatius,2011-10-20 This book provides a game theoretic model of interaction among VoIP telecommunications providers regarding their willingness to enter peering agreements with one another The author shows that the incentive to peer is generally based on savings from otherwise payable long distance fees At the same time termination fees can have a countering and dominant effect resulting in an environment in which VoIP firms decide against peering Various scenarios of peering and rules for allocation of the savings are considered The first part covers the relevant aspects of game theory and network theory trying to give an overview of the concepts required in the subsequent application The second part of the book introduces first a model of how the savings from peering can be calculated and then turns to the actual formation of peering relationships between VoIP firms The conditions under which firms are willing to peer are then described considering the possible influence of a regulatory body

New Insights into the Theory of Giffen Goods Wim Heijman,Pierre

Mouche,2011-10-12 One might expect that after their identification in the 19th century all aspects of Giffen goods would have been studied by now This appears not to be the case This book contains the latest insights into the theory of Giffen goods In the past surprisingly few goods could be categorized as Giffen This may be because of a lack of understanding of the character of these goods Therefore the theories explained in this book may also produce a solid basis for further empirical research in the field Experts throughout the world have contributed to this book which predominantly pursues a mathematically rigorous approach It may be used by researchers in the field of fundamental economics and in graduate level courses in advanced microeconomics
