Christ Redeemed 'Us' from the Curse of the Law Jarvis J. Williams, 2019-07-11. Jarvis J. Williams argues that the Jewish martyrological ideas codified in 2 and 4 Maccabees and in selected texts in LXX Daniel 3 provide an important background to understanding Paul's statements about the cursed Christ in Gal 3:13 and the soteriological benefits that his death achieves for Jews and Gentiles in Galatians. Williams further argues that Paul modifies Jewish martyrology to fit his exegetical polemical and theological purposes in order to persuade the Galatians not to embrace the other gospel of their opponents In addition to providing a detailed and up to date history of research on the scholarship of Gal 3 13 Williams provides five arguments throughout this volume related to the scriptural theological and conceptual lexical grammatical and polemical points of contact and finally the discontinuities between Galatians and Jewish martyrological ideas Drawing on literature from Second Temple traditions to directly compare with Gal 3 13 Williams adds new insights to Paul s defense of his Torah free gentile inclusive gospel and his rhetoric against his opponents

Humour in Asian Cultures Jessica Milner Davis,2022-06-30 This innovative book traces the impact of tradition on modern humour across several Asian countries and their cultures Using examples from Japan Korea Indonesia and Chinese cultures in Mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan the contributors explore the different cultural rules for creating and sharing humour Humour can be a powerful lubricant when correctly interpreted mis interpreted it is likely to cause considerable setbacks Over time it has emerged and submerged in different periods and different forms in all these countries but today s conventions still reflect traditional attitudes to and assumptions about what is appropriate in creating and using humour Under close examination Milner Davis and her colleagues show how forms and conventions that differ from those in the west can also be seen to possess elements in common With examples including Mencian and other classical texts Balinese traditional verbal humour Korean and Taiwanese workplace humour Japanese laughter ceremonies performances and cartoons as well as contemporary Chinese language films and videos they engage with a wide range of forms and traditions This fascinating collection of studies will be of great interest to students and scholars of many Asian cultures and also to those with a broader interest in humour studies It highlights the increasing importance of understanding a wider range of cultural values in the present era of globalized communication and the importance of reliable studies of why and how cultures that are geographically related differ in their traditional uses of and assumptions about humour
