Saxton, 2021-02-12 The Devil's Fruit uses anthropology's tool kit to examine farmworkers embodiment of toxic pesticides and social and workplace relationships in California's agricultural industry Rather than stopping at description and critique

Saxton explores how activist ethnographic methods and ethics align conflict and support ongoing struggles for farmworker health and environmental justice

Nigeria's Resource Wars Egodi Uchendu, 2021-03-02 Nigeria's Resource Wars reflects on the diversity of conflicts over access to and allocation of resources in Nigeria. From the devastating effects of crude oil exploration in the Niger Delta to desertification caused by climate change and illegal gold mining in Zamfara to mention a few, Nigeria faces new dimensions of resource-related struggles. The ravaging effects of these resource conflicts between crop farmers and Fulani herders in Nigeria's Middlebelt and states across Southern Nigeria call for urgent scholarly interventions with the Fulani cattle breeders onslaught altering the histories of many Nigerian families through deaths, loss of homes and investments and permanent physical incapacity. Currently, there is an almost total breakdown of interethnic relations with political commentators acknowledging that Nigeria has never been so divided as it presently is in its history. The struggles have now degenerated into kidnaps, armed robbery and incessant targeted and random killings across the country, compounding the already complex problem of insecurity in Nigeria. The chapters in this volume engage with these issues, presenting the different arguments on resource conflicts in Nigeria. They draw insights from similar conflicts in Nigeria's colonial, post-independence past and events from around the world to proffer possible solutions to resource-related confrontations in Africa. By offering a collection of different intellectual perspectives on resource conflicts in Nigeria, this volume will be an important reference material for understanding the diversity of thought patterns that underpin the struggle and policy approaches towards resolving conflict situations in Africa. This volume will be of considerable interest to scholars of Africa, researchers in the humanities, social sciences and conflict studies, and policymakers interested in understanding the resource crisis in Africa.

Treaties in Force United States Department of State - Office of the Legal Adviser, 2014-04-08

Treaties in Force is prepared by the Department of State for the purpose of providing information on treaties and other international agreements to which the United States has become a party and which are carried on the records of the Department of State as being in force as of its stated publication date, January 1, 2013. With respect to treaties and agreements in force as of January 1, 2013, information regarding status is up to date as of the date indicated as authoritative. The term treaty, as a matter of U.S. constitutional law, denotes international agreements made by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate in accordance with Article II, section 2 of the Constitution of the United States.
