Mackesy, 2013-03-07 In 1800 the British Army was the laughing stock of Europe A year later after forty years of failure its honour and reputation had been redeemed British Victory in Egypt 1801 recounts and analyses the story of the expeditionary force that ejected Bonaparte's crack troops from Egypt Piers Mackesy shows how the future of the British Empire depended on the dislodging of the Napoleonic force in the Middle East Outlining the daring assault and the masterly planning and discipline that brought victory against the odds this book also reveals how vital Sir Ralph Abercromby an elderly Scot and leader of the army was to the final success of the venture The part played in the victory by the Highland regiments is still celebrated in Scotland British Victory In Egypt 1801 charts a critical episode in European and military history It also reveals the training tactics and strategy of a unique campaign and its executors Publisher and Bookseller, 1885 Vols for 1871 76

America generally conclude that the early eighteenth century Anglo American empire was commercial in economics liberal in politics and parochial in policy somnambulant in an era of salutary neglect but Stephen Saunders Webb here demonstrates that the American provinces under the spur of war became capitalist coercive and aggressive owing to the vigorous leadership of career army officers trained and nominated to American government by the captain general of the allied armies the first duke of Marlborough and that his influence and that of his legates prevailed through the entire century in America Webb's work follows the duke whom an eloquent enemy described as the greatest statesman and the greatest general that this country or any other country has produced his staff and soldiers through the ten campaigns which by defanging France made the union with Scotland possible and made Great Britain preeminent in the Atlantic world Then Webb demonstrates that the duke's legates transformed American colonies into provinces of empire Marlborough's America fifty years in the making is the fourth volume of The Governors General
