The

Handbook of Media Education Research Divina Frau-Meigs, Sirkku Kotilainen, Manisha Pathak-Shelat, Michael Hoechsmann, Stuart R. Poyntz, 2020-09-23 Over the past forty years media education research has emerged as a historical epistemological and practical field of study. Shifts in the field along with radical transformations in media technologies, aesthetic forms, ownership models, and audience participation practices have driven the application of new concepts and theories across a range of both school and non-school settings. The Handbook on Media Education Research is a unique exploration of the complex set of practices, theories, and tools of media research. Featuring contributions from a diverse range of internationally recognized experts and practitioners, this timely volume discusses recent developments in the field in the context of related scholarship, public policy, formal and non-formal teaching and learning, and DIY and community practice. Offering a truly global perspective, the Handbook focuses on empirical work from Media and Information Literacy (MIL) practitioners from around the world. The book's five parts explore global youth cultures and the media trans-media learning, media literacy, and scientific controversies; varying national approaches to media research; media education policies; and much more. A ground-breaking resource on the concepts and theories of media research, this important book provides a diversity of views and experiences relevant to media literacy education research. Features contributions from experts from a wide range of countries including South Africa, Finland, India, Italy, Brazil, and many more. Examines the history and future of media education in various international contexts. Discusses the development and current state of media literacy education institutions and policies. Addresses important contemporary issues such as social media use, datafication, digital privacy rights, and divides and global cultural practices. The Handbook of Media Education Research is an invaluable guide for researchers in the field, undergraduate and graduate students in media studies, policy makers, and MIL practitioners.

Handbook of Research on Media Literacy in Higher Education Environments Cubbage, Jayne, 2018-05-11 Media is rapidly evolving from social media to news channels; individuals are being bombarded with headlines, new technologies, and varying opinions. Teaching the next generation of communication professionals how to interact with varying forms of media is paramount as they will be the future distributors of news and information. The Handbook of Research on Media Literacy in Higher Education Environments provides emerging research on the role of journalism and mass communication education in the digital era. While highlighting topics such as community media, labs, political cognition, and public engagement, this publication explores the impact of globalization and a changing and diversified world within the realm of higher education. This publication is an important resource for educators, academicians, professionals, and researchers seeking current research on applications and strategies in promoting media and digital studies in higher education.
