Cardiac Electrophysiology Methods and Models Daniel C. Sigg, Paul A. Iaizzo, Yong-Fu Xiao, Bin He, 2010-09-11 Cardiovascular disease is the major cause of mortality and morbidity in the Western Hemisphere While significant progress has been made in treating a major sub category of cardiac disease arrhythmias significant unmet needs remain In particular every day thousands of patients die because of arrhythmias in the US alone and atrial fibrillation is the most common arrhythmia affecting millions of patients in the US alone at a given time Therefore there is a public need to continue to develop new and better therapies for arrhythmias Accordingly an ever increasing number of biomedical pharmaceutical and medical personnel is interested in studying various aspects of arrhythmias at a basic translational and applied level both in industry ie Biotech Pharmaceutical and device and in academia Not only has our overall understanding of molecular bases of disease dramatically increased but so has the number of available and emerging molecular pharmacological or device treatment based therapies This practical state of the art handbook will summarize and review key research methods and protocols their advantages and pitfalls with a focus on practical implementation and collaborative cross functional research The volume will include visual and easy to use graphics bulleted summaries boxed summary paragraphs links to reference websites equipment manufacturers where appropriate photographs of typical experimental setups and so forth to keep this book very focused on practical methods and implementation and yet provide enough theory that the principles are clearly understood and can be easily applied
