II. Complete the following scheme of blood circulation in the human body.

Oxygen-poor blood enters the right atrium through the tricuspid valve to the right ventricle. Through the pulmonary valve, blood is pumped to the pulmonary trunk then to the left pulmonary artery reaching capillary beds of the lungs. From the lungs, oxygen rich blood goes and enters to the pulmonary veins to the left atrium of the heart then through the bicuspid valve to the chamber called left ventricle. Oxygen rich blood will exit the heart through the aortic valve to the largest artery called aorta. Blood will reach the systemic arteries to the capillaries of the tissues to the systemic veins to the superior vena cava and inferior vena cava returning to the right atrium of the heart.

III. Identify the different types of blood vessels in the picture.

Vedic Creationism Ashish Dalela, 2008-12 The idea that the universe was created by God often meets hostile opposition from proponents of rationality and science because unlike science that creates empirical laws religious theories seem to make no verifiable predictions But in Vedic Creationism author Ashish K Dalela shows that a personal theistic account of creation given in the Vedas has radical implications for the study of matter and questions of creation including new verifiable predictions based upon a different conception of reality An expansive examination of the meaning of the universe by comparing and contrasting varying philosophical vantages Vedic Creationism covers the journey from Vedic notions on God s personality and conscious mind to the implication these ideas have for the origins of life and the attainment of quantum gravity Dalela relates the ideas in Vedic philosophy with the current state of affairs in modern science including the mind body problem the unification of quantum and relativity theories and the question of evolution and origins of life Presenting new forward looking ideas Vedic Creationism will help put the age old wisdom of Vedas in a modern light and open new areas of dialogue
