MASTER OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (MIT) STREAM A Application for 2016

Thank you for your interest in the MIT degree at the University of Pretoria. This document contains information relating to the degree for 2016, including the purpose of the degree, the selection process, and how to apply. Please read all information carefully to prevent any disappointment.

The closing date for the 2016 intake is the 31st of October 2015.
International students' applications close on the 31st of August 2015.

Applications must include:

1. An online application on the UP web page
2. Full portfolio e-mailed to Rhona van der Merwe (rhona.vandermmerwe@up.ac.za or mita@up.ac.za)
3. All certificates and academic records, SAQA (if international student).

Only applications that are complete and received by the due dates will be considered.

PURPOSE

The graduate of the Master's degree in IT will have the knowledge and skills to manage and lead information and information technology-related activities in an organisation in strategic, operational and project environments. This degree provides a broad IT perspective as well as good research and reporting skills. The MIT degree is ideal for a middle management officer in preparation for senior management. Half of the degree is course work and the other half a mini-dissertation.

SELECTION

A limited number of applicants are selected for admission into the MIT degree every year. Selection is based on previous education, work experience and the strength of submitted portfolios. Applicants must meet the basic requirements for admission as stated below, but this does not guarantee admission, only admissibility. There is only one intake in January of every year.

Basic Requirements for Admission:

The following are basic requirements for admission to the MIT degree:

- An appropriate honours or bachelor's degree with an average of at least 65%; AND
- A pass mark in Mathematics at grade 12 (matriculation) level or another qualification in Mathematics, Statistics or Mathematical Statistics which the Selection Committee considers to be sufficient; AND
- Appropriate practical experience at middle management level in the IT environment.

These conditions apply subject to the stipulations of the general admission regulations of the University of Pretoria.

Innovations in online teaching and learning Judah P. Makonye, Nokulunga S. Ndlovu, 2023-03-01 This book's research is on online pedagogical approaches devised by teacher educators and researchers to circumvent a face to face curriculum delivery during the COVID 19 pandemic. The challenge faced by educators was that they were uncertain of how to use digital technologies in teaching learning and assessment productively. This book reports on case studies on teaching student teachers with technology in a way that advanced not only communication but also the cognitive growth of students in relation to disciplinary knowledge. The scholars from South African universities used both conceptual and empirical methodologies mostly in qualitative set ups. The scholarly contributions in this book are varied. They cover theoretical nuances for ICT use in education, considerations for the use of computers in the classroom, pedagogical thinking and pedagogical integration of ICTs in education, affordances of iPads in visible teaching and learning, supporting student cognition in Languages, Mathematics, Science, Engineering, Graphics and Design with ICTs. The use of software applications such as GeoGebra and Excel in teaching and learning mathematics is researched among others. The rich discussions that emerged from their research enable academics to learn from others' innovative moments that came as a result of pandemic pressure. The recommendations in this book can be used in blended learning beyond the COVID 19 era as curriculum delivery methods are bound to change. The value of this book is that it reports on pedagogical innovations in using digital technologies in teacher education. Researchers have an opportunity to learn from this book how to deal with the tantalising teaching and learning problem of our time. How can the use of digital technology transform teaching and learning in general and teacher education in particular?

Polymer Nanocomposites for Advanced Engineering and Military Applications Ramdani, Noureddine, 2019-04-01 The field of polymer nanocomposites has become essential for engineering and military industries over the last few decades as it applies to computing, sensors, biomedical, microelectronics, hard coating and many other domains. Due to their outstanding mechanical and thermal features, polymer nanocomposite materials have recently been developed and now have a wide range of applications. Polymer Nanocomposites for Advanced Engineering and Military Applications provides emerging research on recent advances in the fabrication methods, properties and applications of various nano fillers including surface modification methods and chemical functionalization. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as barrier properties, biomedical, microelectronics and matrix processing, this book is ideally designed for engineers, industrialists, chemists, government officials, military professionals, practitioners, academicians, researchers and students.
