A. Walter Dill (English colonists) wrote about the order and change of government influenced the growth of the colonies, the laws that (influenced) and the system of government that later today.

1. John Locke, Thomas, Jefferson, and Madison were influential lawmakers and important contributors to the founding principles and development of the United States.

2. The principle that a government's power is derived absolutely from the people is known as Magna Carta, which the English people have regarded as a guarantee of English government.

3. The English Bill of Rights and other documents that established and confirmed the principles, documents applied to them and gave them the same rights as people living in Britain.

4. The English system of law, especially as organized by the Parliament, was widely followed in the colonies.

5. John Locke, Parliament, and Jefferson were among the people who were familiar with the principles of government, but they differed in.

6. Thomas Jefferson developed the Bill of Rights, which suggested that people have their individual sovereignty in that government is established by the government's consent of law and order.

7. John Locke believed that people have natural rights as human beings and a government that failed to protect them is illegitimate.

8. John Locke believed that law, order, liberty, and justice were the rights and freedoms that people have and that government is a necessary response to the need for a government.

9. Thomas Jefferson's Declaration of Independence suggested legislative the powers of government.

10. Walter Dill said that the English colonies had the same government structure.
