

The Cold War Heats Up

1. As you read the passage, fill in the information you discover about the Soviet-American agreement below.

	What the Soviets Wanted	What the Americans Wanted
1. Would it make any sense to build space programs and rockets?	That U.S. support them economically (training, fuel, etc.)	Not really.
2. Would anyone benefit from the rockets and satellites they could build?	They would certainly produce jobs, but that was minor. The real benefit would be the delivery of the satellite's missiles directly to the U.S.	They might develop better in light of the American program, but the U.S. already was doing this. Soviet rockets were huge, planned under the control of General Zhukov's family.
3. Would anyone disagree with this?	Not really.	Some might be upset because they had no voice in the decision.
4. Would the U.S. achieve what it wanted under the agreement?	Yes, the government could no longer claim to be communist.	The American public was disappointed and would not take as much interest in the issue.

2. Suppose the agreement simply set up the program, without these other provisions. Would it still bring about the advantages listed below?

Answer: No, because the American press would still consider it communist, and that just means bad publicity.
