Amazing Arts 41 Edward Hopper Volume 41:

Last Light Richard Lacayo, 2022-10-11 Lacayo shows how old age can be a time of daring creativity and triumph in art. He focuses on six artists who produced many of their greatest works in the last years of their long careers and sometimes even changed the court of art history. Though they differed in many respects, these six artists shared a determination to go on creating. They were driven not by the bounding energies of youth but by the ticking clock that would inspire them to produce some of their greatest masterpieces. Adapted from jacket Edward Hopper Gerry Souter, 2015-09-15. In his works, Hopper poetically expressed the solitude of man confronted to the American way of life as it developed in the 1920s. Inspired by the movies and particularly by the various camera angles and attitudes of characters, his paintings expose the alienation of mass culture. Created using cold colours and inhabited by anonymous characters, Hopper's paintings also symbolically reflect the Great Depression. Through a series of different reproductions, etchings, watercolours, and oil on canvas paintings, as well as thematic and artistic analysis, the author sheds new light on the enigmatic and tortured world of this outstanding figure.

Artbibliographies Modern, 2004 Prairie Farmer, 1867 Internationalizing the History of American Art Barbara S. Groseclose, Jochen Wierich, 2009. A collection of essays presenting international perspectives on the narratives and the practices grounding the scholarly study of American Art. Provided by publisher America After the Fall Sarah L. Burns, Teresa A. Carbone, Annelise K. Madsen, Sarah Kelly Oehler, 2016-01-01. A unique look at America's quest to carve out an artistic identity during the Depression era. Through 50 masterpieces of painting, this fascinating catalogue chronicles the turbulent economic, political, and aesthetic climate of the 1930s. This decade was a supremely creative period in the United States as the nation's artists, novelists, and critics struggled through the Great Depression seeking to define modern American art. In the process, many painters challenged and reworked the meanings and forms of modernism, reaching no simple consensus. This period was also marked by an astounding diversity of work as artists sought styles ranging from abstraction to Regionalism to Surrealism that allowed them to engage with issues such as populism, labor, social protest, and to employ an urban and rural iconography including machines, factories, and farms. Seminal works by Edward Hopper, Grant Wood, Thomas Hart Benton, Georgia O'Keeffe, Aaron Douglas, Charles Sheeler, Stuart Davis, and others show such attempts to capture the American character. These groundbreaking paintings, highlighting the relationship between art and national experience, demonstrate how creativity, experimentation, and revolutionary vision flourished during a time of great uncertainty.

Modernism for the Masses Jody Patterson, 2020-11-17. A mural renaissance swept the United States in the 1930s, propelled by the New Deal Federal Art Project and the popularity of Mexican muralism. Perhaps nowhere more than in New York City, murals became a crucial site for the development of abstract painting. Artists such as Stuart Davis, Arshile Gorky, Willem de Kooning, and Lee Krasner created ambitious works for the Williamsburg Housing Project, Floyd Bennett Field Airport, and the 1939 World's Fair. Modernism for the Masses examines the public murals realized and unrealized of these and other abstract painters and the aesthetic controversy political influence and ideological warfare that surrounded them Jody Patterson transforms standard narratives of modernism by reasserting the significance of the 1930s and explores the reasons for the omission of the mural s history from chronicles of American art Beautifully illustrated with the artists murals and little known archival photographs this book recovers the radical idea that modernist art was a vital part of everyday life
