Chemical Engineering Volume 2 J H Harker, J R Backhurst, J.F. Richardson, 2013-10-22 Chemical Engineering Volume 2 covers the properties of particulate systems including the character of individual particles and their behaviour in fluids Sedimentation of particles both singly and at high concentrations flow in packed and fluidised beds and filtration are then examined The latter part of the book deals with separation processes such as distillation and gas absorption which illustrate applications of the fundamental principles of mass transfer introduced in Chemical Engineering Volume 1 In conclusion several techniques of growing importance adsorption ion exchange chromatographic and membrane separations and process intensification are described A logical progression of chemical engineering concepts volume 2 builds on fundamental principles contained in Chemical Engineering volume 1 and these volumes are fully cross referenced Reflects the growth in complexity and stature of chemical engineering over the last few years Supported with further reading at the end of each chapter and graded problems at the end of the book Biominerals F.C.M. Driessens, R.K.

Verbeeck, 1990-09-26 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of biominerals in particular phosphates and carbonates of calcium The book begins with a discussion of the theories of solid state chemistry and thermodynamics of ionic solid solutions and applies these theories to show how physiological constituents like sodium magnesium carbonate chloride fluoride lead or strontium influence the formation stability and solubility of calcium phosphates The results of this discussion are then applied to a critical evaluation of data regarding minerals in bone dentin and tooth enamel their formation during growth and turn over their stability under physiological conditions and their breakdown under pathological conditions These principles are also applied to pathological calcifications such as renal calculi arterial wall calcifications chondrocalcinosis dental calculus and salivary stones A similar approach is used as the authors discuss carbonates such as calcite dolomite and aragonite The book also includes an extensive analysis of the advantageous effects of magnesium supplementation The wealth of knowledge in this extensive treatise of biominerals is valuable to medical dental and ecological biologists as well as scientists and clinicians in the fields of osteoporosis bone diseases caries renal stone disease parodontology and nutrition Chemical

Martin Schmal, 2016-09-22 This book aims to introduce the basic concepts involved in industrial catalytic processes It is profusely illustrated with experimental results with the main objective of guiding how to select a suitable catalyst for specific processes The book is divided in two parts In the first part the basic concepts are addressed regarding the existing theories activity patterns and adsorption desorption phenomena In the second part the key experimental methods for the physicochemical characterization of catalysts are presented as well as the currently used catalyst pre and post treatments The last chapter describes some important in situ characterization techniques e.g. XPS and TEM and surface model patterns related to surface modifications occurring during the reaction Thoroughly illustrated with microscopy images spectroscopy data and schematics of reaction mechanisms the book provides a powerful learning tool for students in undergraduate and graduate level courses on the field of catalysis Exercises and resolved problems are provided as well as experimental procedures to support laboratory classes Furthermore the content is presented in a carefully chosen sequence reflecting the 30 year teaching experience of the author The author Professor Martin Schmal sees the present book as a way of conveying basic knowledge needed for the development of more efficient catalysts i e nanostructured materials and novel industrial chemical processes in the fields of environmental chemistry fine chemistry hydrotreating of heavy oils hydrogen production and biomass processing
