Leading Change While Loving People Yulee Lee, 2022-12-16 Filled with stories of successful social change leadership in diverse contexts this book demonstrates that the best change agents love the people involved most of all Many people have experienced change trauma under leaders whose agenda was more important than anything or anyone else so it is no wonder that change failure rates are often reported as 40% to 70% There is another way change leaders who work to solve some of the world's toughest problems realize that working with others is necessary to accomplishing a social change mission This book shares the insights of those who lead social change in the non profit sector and shows how they catalyze the urgency for connect people toward and continue momentum for a desired change Their stories reveal three interconnected dimensions of leading change people relationships for change process communicating for change and purpose the change mission Ultimately readers will learn that strengthening social capital people centering marginal voices process and aligning stakeholders to the change mission purpose are critical to the work of change agents who value relationships Leveraging well known models and elevating little heard voices this book flips the script of conventional leadership books by focusing on non profit social change leaders rather than business titans Students managers and leaders across sectors will value these new insights along with a relationally focused process and strategy for leading change and practical tips and recommendations for implementation

The AI Military Race Denise Garcia, 2023-10-29 In The AI Military Race Denise Garcia examines the complexities entailed in creating a global framework to govern the military use of Artificial Intelligence AI by proposing inclusive and humane ways to forge cooperation Three novel humanist conceptions are introduced common good governance transnational networked cooperation and humanity's security This academic volume is the first to survey the threats to peace in the shifting world order by investigating the current patterns and trends in the global use of and investment in militarizing AI and the development of autonomous systems Garcia weaves in an insider participant observer focus on the decade long high level diplomatic attempts to set limits in autonomy in weapons systems known as killer robots and offers a path for the creation of an international treaty on autonomous weapons and ways to create common good governance for the militarization of AI This important study draws on earlier successful cooperation and international law making in several areas including conventional arms nuclear and chemical weapons bans the protection of outer space and the ozone the Arctic Antarctica and the oceans It offers an appraisal of the way that previous successes in global cooperation can inform the formation of common good governance on AI that is respectful of future generations and protective of human dignity and the common good of humanity

Philanthropy and the Nonprofit Sector in a Changing America Charles Clotfelter, Thomas Ehrlich, 2001-10 This collection brings together the views of a stellar assemblage of scholars practitioners and a host of other talented and distinguished citizens of the independent sector A must read Philanthropy Monthly In an attempt to analyze future directions of the increasingly influential nonprofit sector the American Assembly and the Indiana

Center on Philanthropy sponsored a conference that brought in leading scholars and practitioners. Participants were asked to consider what forces will determine the shape and activities of philanthropy and the nonprofit sector in the next decade. This volume is a product of this inquiry. Contributors focused on a variety of pressures including the devolution of federal programs, the blurring of lines between non-profit and for-profit organizations, the changing distributions of income, a revived interest in community and civil society, the evolution of religion and other regulatory reform, and a retreat of government from various policy areas.

Generation at the Crossroads Paul Rogat Loeb, 1994. Challenging prevailing media stereotypes, Generation at the Crossroads explores the beliefs and choices of the students who came of age in the 1980s and 1990s. For seven years at over a hundred campuses in thirty states, Paul Loeb asked students about the values they held. He examines their concepts of responsibility, the links they draw between present and future, and how they view themselves in relation to the larger human community in which they live. He brings us a range of voices from "I'm not that kind of person" to "I had to take a stand." Loeb looks at how the rest of us can serve young people as better role models and give them courage and vision to help build a better world. This insightful book explores the culture of withdrawal that dominated American campuses through most of the eighties. He locates its roots in historical ignorance, relentless individualism, mistrust of social movements, and a general isolation from urgent realities. He examines why a steadily increasing minority has begun to take on critical public issues, whether environmental activism, apartheid, hunger, and homelessness, affordable education, or racial and sexual equity. Loeb looks at individuals who have overcome precisely the barriers he has described and how their journeys can become models. The generational choices he explores will shape our common future.

Changing Africa: the First Literary Generation of Independent Cape Verde Gerald Moser, 2007-12. Scholars have been curious about the development of arts letters in Africa since the last European colonies on that continent attained independence in 1975. On Cape Verde, the Portuguese entered into close relations with Black Africa represented by enslaved men, women, children it carried there from the nearest mainland. From the mid 19th century on, works of fiction, poetry were written in Cape Verde, but this lit remained a regional or colonial variant of the lit of Portugal. The foundations of a national lit were laid between 1935-1960 with a group of intellectuals gathered around the poet Jorge Barbosa. In Nov 1986, an international congress of writers, scholars was held to celebrate the 50th anniversary of their journal Claridade. Map

Forging Democracy Geoff Eley, 2002-04-11. Democracy in Europe has been a recent phenomenon. Only in the wake of World War II were democratic frameworks secured, and even then it was decades before democracy truly blanketed the continent. Neither given nor granted, democracy requires conflict, often violent confrontations and challenges to the established political order. In Europe, Geoff Eley convincingly shows democracy did not evolve organically out of a natural consensus, the achievement of prosperity, or the negative cement of the Cold War.

Rather it was painstakingly crafted continually expanded and doggedly defended by varying constellations of socialist feminist Communist and other radical movements that originally blossomed in the later nineteenth century Parties of the Left championed democracy in the revolutionary crisis after World War I salvaged it against the threat of fascism and renewed its growth after 1945 They organized civil societies rooted in egalitarian ideals which came to form the very fiber of Europe's current democratic traditions The trajectories of European democracy and the history of the European Left are thus inextricably bound together Geoff Eley has given us the first truly comprehensive history of the European Left its successes and failures its high watermarks and its low tides its accomplishments insufficiencies and excesses and most importantly its formative lasting influence on the European political landscape At a time when the Left's influence and legitimacy are frequently called into question Forging Democracy passionately upholds its vital contribution
