Formation Control Hyo-Sung Ahn, 2019-03-29 This monograph introduces recent developments in formation control of distributed agent systems Eschewing the traditional concern with the dynamic characteristics of individual agents the book proposes a treatment that studies the formation control problem in terms of interactions among agents including factors such as sensing topology communication and actuation topologies and computations Keeping pace with recent technological advancements in control communications sensing and computation that have begun to bring the applications of distributed systems theory out of the industrial sphere and into that of day to day life this monograph provides distributed control algorithms for a group of agents that may behave together Unlike traditional control laws that usually require measurements with respect to a global coordinate frame and communications between a centralized operation center and agents this book provides control laws that require only relative measurements and communications between agents without interaction with a centralized operator Since the control algorithms presented in this book do not require any global sensing and any information exchanges with a centralized operation center they can be realized in a fully distributed way which significantly reduces the operation and implementation costs of a group of agents Formation Control will give both students and researchers interested in pursuing this field a good grounding on which to base their work

The Medieval Hebrew Encyclopedias of Science and Philosophy S. Harvey, 2013-06-29 In January 1998 leading scholars from Europe the United States and Israel in the fields of medieval encyclopedias Arabic Latin and Hebrew and medieval Jewish philosophy and science gathered together at Bar Ilan University in Ramat Gan Israel for an international conference on medieval Hebrew encyclopedias of science and philosophy The primary purpose of the conference was to explore and define the structure sources nature and characteristics of the medieval Hebrew encyclopedias of science and philosophy This book the first to devote itself to the medieval Hebrew encyclopedias of science and philosophy contains revised versions of the papers that were prepared for this conference This volume also includes an annotated translation of Moritz Steinschneider's groundbreaking discussion of this subject in his Die hebraeischen bersetzungen The Medieval Hebrew Encyclopedias of Science and Philosophy will be of particular interest to students of medieval philosophy and science Jewish intellectual history the history of ideas and pre modern Western encyclopedias Federal Register ,2013-02 Official Army Register United States. Adjutant-General's Office, U. S. Army Register United States. Adjutant-General's Office,1914 Luke the Historian in Light of Research Archibald Thomas Robertson,2018-02-28 The work of the last fifteen years has created new interest in the writings of Luke The relation of Luke's Gospel to Mark's Gospel and the Logia of Jesus has sharply defined his own critical methods and processes The researches of Harnack Hobart and Ramsay have restored the credit of Luke with many critics who had been carried away by the criticism of Baur and who looked askance upon the value of Luke as the historian of early Christianity It has been like mining digging now here now there The items in Luke's books that were attacked have been taken up one by one The work has been slow and piecemeal of necessity But it is now possible to gather together into a fairly complete picture the results It is a positively amazing vindication of Luke The force of the argument is cumulative and tremendous One needs to have the patience to work through the details with candor and a willingness to see all the facts with no prejudice against Luke or against the supernatural origin of Christianity From the Preface Statutes at Large of the State of New York John W. Edmonds,2020-09-22 Reprint of the original first published in 1870 Keter Arthur Green,2014-07-14 Keter is a close reading of fifty relatively brief Jewish texts tracing the motif of divine coronation from Jewish esoteric writings of late antiquity to the Zohar written in thirteenth century Spain In the course of this investigation Arthur Green draws a wide arc including Talmudic Midrashic liturgical Merkavah German Hasidic and Kabbalistic works showing through this single theme the spectrum of devotional mystical and magical views held by various circles of Jews over the course of a millennium or more The first portion of the work deals with late antiquity emphasizing the close relationship between texts of what is often depicted as normative Judaism and their mystical magical analogues The mythic imagination of ancient Judaism he suggests is shared across this spectrum The latter portion of the work turns to the medieval Jews who inherited this ancient tradition and its evolution into Kabbalah where keter plays a key role as the first of the ten divine emanations or sefirot The nature of these sefirot as symbols and the emergence of a structured and hierarchical symbolism out of the mythic imagery of the past are key themes in these later chapters As a whole Keter takes the reader on an exciting tour of the interior landscapes of the Jewish imagination offering some remarkable insights into the nature of mystical and symbolic thinking in the Jewish tradition Originally published in 1997 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905
