13 June 2014 Geography Paper 2

Helen Vidgen

13 June 2014 Geography Paper 2:

Transport Justice Karel Martens, 2016-07-01 Transport Justice develops a new paradigm for transportation planning based on principles of justice. Author Karel Martens starts from the observation that for the last fifty years the focus of transportation planning and policy has been on the performance of the transport system and ways to improve it without much attention being paid to the persons actually using or failing to use that transport system. There are far reaching consequences of this approach with some enjoying the fruits of the improvements in the transport system while others have experienced a substantial deterioration in their situation. The growing body of academic evidence on the resulting disparities in mobility and accessibility have been paralleled by increasingly vocal calls for policy changes to address the inequities that have developed over time. Drawing on philosophies of social justice, Transport Justice argues that governments have the fundamental duty of providing virtually every person with adequate transportation and thus of mitigating the social disparities that have been created over the past decades. Critical reading for transport planners and students of transportation planning, this book develops a new approach to transportation planning that takes people as its starting point and justice as its end.

Urban Assemblage William Fourie, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016. From subversive shop windows to moralising theme parks, Urban Assemblage presents eight diverse perspectives on urban space and culture. The volume spotlights cities as far afield as Johannesburg and Cork City to see how different cultures, media, mobilities and narratives come to form the spaces we occupy. It looks at the Tuscan utopia, the evolution of the hipster, the Neo-bohemian café culture of gentrification and breaking the rigid urban way of life through the fluid identity movement of Parkour. Not only is the subject matter diverse but the interdisciplinary spirit at the core of this volume elicits convergences and divergences, intersections and parallels by drawing on wide ranging methodologies and disciplines. Urban Assemblage is an assemblage of eight different voices, informed and cutting edge in their explications of various urban spaces.

The Gangs of Bangladesh Sally Atkinson-Sheppard, 2019-08-28 This book presents a study of street children's involvement as workers in Bangladeshi organised crime groups based on a three year ethnographic study in Dhaka. The book argues that mastaans are Bangladeshi mafia groups that operate in a market for crime, violence and social protection. It considers the crimes mastaans commit, the ways they divide labour and how and why street children become involved in these groups. The book explores how street children are hired by mastaans to carry weapons, sell drugs, collect extortion money, commit political violence and conduct contract killings. The book argues that these young people are neither victims nor offenders; they are instead illicit child labourers doing what they can to survive on the streets. This book adds to the emerging fields of the sociology of crime and deviance in South Asia and Southern criminology.

Queer Ecopedagogies Joshua Russell, 2021-04-09 This volume builds on the momentum surrounding queer work within environmental education while also encouraging new connections between environmental education research and the growing bodies of literature dedicated to queer deconstructions of categories such as nature environment and animal The book is composed of submissions that engage with existing literature from queer ecology queer theory and various explorations of sexuality and gender within the context of human animal nature relationships The book deepens and diversifies environmental education by providing new theoretical and methodological insights for scholarship and practice across a variety of educational contexts Queer pedagogies provide important critical points of view for educators who seek broader goals centred around social and ecological justice by encouraging counter hegemonic views of bodies nature and community The scope of this book is multi or interdisciplinary in order to cast a wide net around what kinds of spaces relationships and practices are considered educational pedagogical or curricular The volume includes chapters that are conceptual theoretical and empirical

South-North Migration of EU Citizens in Times of Crisis Jean-Michel Lafleur,Mikolaj Stanek,2016-12-08 This open access book looks at the migration of Southern European EU citizens from Portugal Spain Italy Greece who move to Northern European Member States Belgium France Germany United Kingdom in response to the global economic crisis Its objective is twofold First it identifies the scale and nature of this new Southern European emigration and examines these migrants socio economic integration in Northern European destination countries This is achieved through an analysis of the most recent data on flows and profiles of this new labour force using sending country and receiving country databases Second it looks at the politics and policies of immigration both from the perspective of the sending and receiving countries Analysing the policies and debates about these new flows in the home and host countries this book shows how contentious the issue of intra EU mobility has recently become in the context of the crisis when the right for EU citizens to move within the EU had previously not been questioned for decades Overall the strength of this edited volume is that it compiles in a systematic way quantitative and qualitative analysis of these renewed Southern European migration flows and draws the lessons from this changing climate on EU migration

Gender and

Environmental Education: Feminist and Other(ed) Perspectives Annette Gough,2024-06-03 This timely book provides a starting point for critical analysis and discourse about the status of gendered perspectives in environmental education research Through bringing together selected writings of Annette Gough it documents the evolving discussions of gender in environmental education research since the mid 1990s from its origins in putting women on the agenda through to women s relationships with nature and ecofeminism as well as writings that engage with queer theory intersectionality assemblages new materialisms posthumanism and the more than human The book is both a collection of Annette Gough and her collaborators writings around these themes and her reflections on the transitions that have occurred in the field of environmental education related to gender since the late 1980s as well as her deliberations on future directions An important new addition to the World Library of Educationalists this book foregrounds women their environmental perspectives and feminist and other gendered research which have been marginalised for too long in environmental education

Responsiveness and Responsibility in the Euro Crisis Lisa Kriegmair,2025-04-01

Conditionality has become a popular instrument for achieving policy change in the European Union EU EU conditionality in the Euro crisis epitomises the responsiveness responsibility dilemma that comes with increasing supranational influence on national policymaking governments find it increasingly difficult to responsively address the needs of their citizens and simultaneously fulfil their obligations vis vis supranational institutions Blame avoidance strategies are a way to mitigate this problem as they help governments shape public perceptions about who is to be held accountable for unpopular policies During the Euro crisis despite it being an easy target governments facing EU conditionality did not indiscriminately shift blame to the EU Instead they drew on a variety of blame avoidance strategies This book aims to shed light on this observed variation in governments strategy choices during the Euro crisis To do so it investigates the constraints that EU

conditionality imposes on governments use of blame avoidance strategies and how governments chose specific strategies from the remaining blame avoidance toolkit

Food Literacy Helen Vidgen,2016-04-14 Globally the food system and the relationship of the individual to that system continues to change and grow in complexity Eating is an everyday event that is part of everyone s lives There are many commentaries on the nature of these changes to what where and how we eat and their socio cultural environmental educational economic and health consequences Among this discussion the term food literacy has emerged to acknowledge the broad role food and eating play in our lives and the empowerment that comes from meeting food needs well In this book contributors from Australia China United Kingdom and North America provide a review of international research on food literacy and how this can be applied in schools health care settings and public education and communication at the individual group and population level These varying perspectives will give the reader an introduction to this emerging concept The book gathers current insights and provides a platform for discussion to further understanding and application in this field It stimulates the reader to conceptualise what food literacy means to their practice and to critically review its potential contribution to a range of outcomes

Central Peripheries Marlene Laruelle

,2021-07-01 Central Peripheries explores post Soviet Central Asia through the prism of nation building Although relative latecomers on the international scene the Central Asian states see themselves as globalized and yet in spite of or perhaps precisely because of this they hold a very classical vision of the nation state rejecting the abolition of boundaries and the theory of the death of the nation Their unabashed celebration of very classical nationhoods built on post modern premises

challenges the Western view of nationalism as a dying ideology that ought to have been transcended by post national cosmopolitanism Marlene Laruelle looks at how states in the region have been navigating the construction of a nation in a post imperial context where Russia remains the dominant power and cultural reference She takes into consideration the ways in which the Soviet past has influenced the construction of national storylines as well as the diversity of each state s narratives and use of symbolic politics Exploring state discourses academic narratives and different forms of popular nationalist storytelling allows Laruelle to depict the complex construction of the national pantheon in the three decades since independence The second half of the book focuses on Kazakhstan as the most hybrid national construction and a unique case study of nationhood in Eurasia Based on the principle that only multidisciplinary can help us to untangle the puzzle of nationhood Central Peripheries uses mixed methods combining political science intellectual history sociology and cultural anthropology It is inspired by two decades of fieldwork in the region and a deep knowledge of the region s academia and political environment Praise for Central Peripheries Marlene Laruelle paves the way to the more focused and necessary outlook on Central Asia a region that is not a periphery but a central space for emerging conceptual debates and complexities Above all the book is a product of Laruelle s trademark excellence in balancing empirical depth with vigorous theoretical advancements Diana T Kudaibergenova University of Cambridge Using the concept of hybridity Laruelle explores the multitude of historical political and geopolitical factors that predetermine different ways of looking at nations and various configurations of nation building in post Soviet Central Asia Those manifold contexts present a general picture of the transformation that the former southern periphery of the USSR has been going through in the past decades Sergey Abashin European University at St Petersburg
