Handbook of Research on the Applications of International Transportation and Logistics for World Trade Ceyhun, Gökçe Çiçek, 2019-12-06 In today's developing world international trade is a field that is rapidly growing. Within this economic market, traders need to implement new approaches in order to satisfy consumers' rising demands. Due to the high level of competition, merchants have focused on developing new transportation and logistics strategies. In order to execute effective transportation tactics, decision makers need to know the fundamentals, current developments, and future trends of intercontinental transportation. The Handbook of Research on the Applications of International Transportation and Logistics for World Trade provides emerging research exploring the effective and productive solutions to global transportation and logistics by applying fundamental and in-depth knowledge together with current applications and future aspects. Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as international regulations, inventory management, and distribution networks, this book is ideally designed for logistics authorities, trading companies, logistics operators, transportation specialists, government officials, managers, policymakers, researchers, academicians, and students.

Myofibroblasts (MFB) are found in most tissues of the body. They have the matrix-producing functions of fibroblasts and contractile properties that are known from smooth muscle cells. Fundamental work of the last decades has shed remarkable light on their origin, biological functions, and role in disease. During hepatic injury, they fulfill manifold functions in connective tissue remodeling and wound healing, but overshooting activity of MFB on the other side induces fibrosis and cirrhosis. The present e-book Liver myofibroblasts contains 9 articles providing comprehensive information on hot topics of MFB. In our opening editorial, we provide a short overview of the origin of MFB and their relevance in extracellular matrix formation, which is the hallmark of hepatic fibrosis. Thereafter, leading experts in the field share their current perspectives on special topics of i) MFB in development and disease, ii) their role in hepatic fibrogenesis, and iii) promising therapies and targets that are suitable to interfere with hepatic fibrosis.
