Functions of the Reproductive System

- Production of Gametes

    - Male gonads are called Testes which produce Sperm cells.
    - Female gonads are called Ovaries which produce Egg cells or Oocytes.

Structure of the Testes

|                      |                                                                                      |
|----------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Tunica Vaginalis     | The white part of the testes is a serous membrane consisting of squamous epithelium. |
| Tunica Albuginea     | Also a white fibrous connective tissue capsule that surrounds each testis.           |
| Septa                | Extensions into testis, dividing it into lobules.                                    |
| Lobules              | Contain seminiferous tubules.                                                        |
| Seminiferous Tubules | Where sperm cells are developed.                                                     |
| Interstitial Cells   | Also called Leydig cells, produces testosterone hormone.                             |

- The combined length of the seminiferous tubules in both testes is nearly half a mile.
- Tubuli Recti
  - The seminiferous tubules empty into a set of short straight tubules.
- Rete Testis
  - These in turn empty into a tubular network.
- Efferent Ductules
