Theatricality of the Closet Fashion Performance and Subjectivity between Victorian Britain and Meiji Japan examines fashion and clothing controversies of the nineteenth century drawing on performance theory to reveal how the apparently superficial or frivolous deeply affects the creation of identity By interrogating a set of seemingly disparate examples from the same period but widely distant settings Victorian Britain and Meiji era Japan Carriger disentangles how small local ordinary practices became enmeshed in a global fabric of cultural and material surfaces following the opening of trade between these nations in 1850 This richly illustrated book presents an array of media from conservative newspapers and tabloids to ukiyo e and early photography that locate dress as a site where the individual and the social are interwoven whether in the 1860s and 1870s or the twenty first century
