Networks of Privilege in the Middle East: The Politics of Economic Reform Revisited S. Heydemann, 2004-08-20 This volume explores the role of informal networks in the politics of Middle Eastern economic reform. The editor's introduction demonstrates how network-based models overcome limitations in existing approaches to the politics of economic reform. The following chapters show how business-state networks in Egypt, Morocco, Tunisia, Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan have affected privatization programs and the reform of fiscal policies. They help us understand patterns and variation in the organization and outcome of economic reform programs, including the opportunities that economic reforms offered for reorganizing networks of economic privilege across the Middle East.

Book Steven Berbeco, 2011-08-19 Abstract In this study I propose a strong and innovative model of teaching that centers on the student and I report on the efficacy of this model using quantitative research procedures. This model of teaching is systematized in the Marhaba curriculum, a method of teaching first-year high school Arabic that I designed, tested, and evaluated. The Marhaba curriculum is founded on best practices and is a natural outgrowth of contemporary education theories, including non-linear curriculum design and multiple modality teaching materials that take into consideration students' diverse learning styles. Analysis of data indicates that use of the Marhaba curriculum positively influences student proficiency in Arabic. In particular, students become proficient regardless of a student's gender, grade, socioeconomic status, or parent educational background. Also, student proficiency is not dependent on a student's attitude to learning or engagement in class or a student's attitude toward the curriculum.

Wars of Modern Babylon Pesach Malovany, 2017-07-21 As long as there have been wars, victors have written the prevailing histories of the world's conflicts. An army that loses, and especially one that is destroyed or disbanded, is often forgotten. Nevertheless, the experiences of defeated forces can provide important insights, lessons, and perspectives not always apparent to the winning side. In Wars of Modern Babylon, Pesach Malovany provides a comprehensive and detailed history of the Iraqi military from its formation in 1921 to its collapse in 2003. Malovany analyzes Iraqi participation in the 1948, 1967, and 1973 Arab wars against Israel, as well as Iraq's wars with the Kurds during the twentieth century. His primary focus, however, is the era of Saddam Hussein (1979-2003), who implemented rapid and significant military growth and fought three major wars: against Iran from 1980 to 1988, and against coalition forces led by the United States in 1991 and 2003. He examines the Iraqi military at the strategic, operative, and tactical levels, explains its forces and branches, and investigates its use of both conventional and unconventional weapons. The first study to offer a portrait of an Arab army from its own point of view, Wars of Modern Babylon features interviews with and personal accounts from officers at various levels as well as press accounts covering the politics and conflicts of the period Malovany also analyzes books written by key figures in the Iraqi government and the army high command His definitive chronicle offers English speakers new and overlooked perspectives on critical developments in twentieth century history The book won the Israel Yitzhak Sade Award for Military Literature in 2010
