Never Work Harder Than Your Students and Other Principles of Great Teaching Robyn R. Jackson, 2010-08-13 Is great teaching a gift that only a few of us are born with or is it a skill that can be learned In Never Work Harder Than Your Students Robyn Jackson makes a radical assertion Any teacher can become a master teacher by developing a master teacher mindset The master teacher mindset can be achieved by rigorously applying seven principles to your teaching until they become your automatic response to students in the classroom The more you practice these seven principles the more you begin to think like a master teacher 1 Start where your students are 2 Know where your students are going 3 Expect to get your students to their goal 4 Support your students along the way 5 Use feedback to help you and your students get better 6 Focus on quality rather than quantity 7 Never work harder than your students Using these principles Jackson shows you how to become a master teacher no matter where you are in your practice Each chapter provides a detailed explanation of one of the mastery principles the steps you need to take to apply them to your own practice and suggestions for how you can begin practicing the principle in your classroom right away Jackson offers stories from her own teaching practice as well as from other teachers she has helped to show you how each principle works Teaching is a hard job but using Jackson's principles will help you and your students reap the rich rewards of that hard work

SCIENCE PROJECTS IN RENEWABLE ENERGY AND ENERGY EFFICIENCY , The Value of Science Projects Science projects are an especially effective way of teaching students about the world around them Whether conducted in the classroom or for a science fair science projects can help develop critical thinking and problem solving skills In a classroom setting science projects offer a way for teachers to put action into the lessons The students have fun while they re learning important knowledge and skills And the teacher often learns with the students experiencing excitement with each new discovery Science projects are generally of two types non experimental and experimental Non experimental projects usually reflect what the student has read or heard about in an area of science By creating displays or collections of scientific information or demonstrating certain natural phenomena the student goes through a process similar to a library research report or a meta analysis in any other subject Projects of this type may be appropriate for some students at a very early level but they usually do not provide the experiences that develop problem solving skills related to the scientific process On the other hand experimental projects pose a question or hypothesis which is then answered by doing an experiment or by modeling a phenomenon The question doesn't have to be something never before answered by scientist that is not necessary to conduct original research The process of picking a topic designing an experiment and recording and analyzing data is what's important
