Reconstructing Afghanistan William Maley,Susanne Schmeidl,2014-11-27 This book identifies some of the main lessons for civil military interactions that can be derived from the experiences of Provincial Reconstruction Teams PRTs in Afghanistan The book has three main themes Firstly the volume analyses why the ways in which civil and military actors interact in theatres of operations such as Afghanistan matter for both those categories of actors and for the ordinary people who their interactions serve Second the book highlights that these interactions are invariably complex The third theme which arises specifically from the PRT experience in Afghanistan is that such teams vary significantly in their roles resourcing and operational environments Consequently to appraise the value of the PRT experience it is necessary to unpack the experiences of different PRTs which the use of case studies allows one to do The volume comprises an introduction identifying some key questions to which the PRT experience gives rise and case studies of the experiences of the United States United Kingdom New Zealand Canada The Netherlands Australia Germany and France chapters dealing with the roles played by NGOs and the UN system and a discussion from an Afghan perspective of the implications of civilian casualties It is the combination of the diverse cases discussed in this book with a focus on the broad challenges of optimising civil military interactions that makes this book distinctive This book will be of much interest to students of the Afghan War civil military relations
