death of Professor Arthur Wright in the summer of 1996 deprived me of a friend and a colleague whose judgement and experience shaped this book I pay tribute to his contributions to protection and electrical engineering education In the five years since the first edition appeared many developments have taken place and it is now necessary to update the book The use of digital communications and advanced signal processing techniques is now widespread and several fully numeric relays are available from manufacturers Two new Chapters 13 and 14 have been added to introduce readers to these concepts and associated techniques Artificial intelligence is making its impact in all engineering applications and power system protection is no exception Expert systems fuzzy logic artificial neural networks adaptive and integrated protection synchronized measurements using the global positioning system genetic algorithms flexible ac transmission systems are some of the techniques considered in connection with protection Although many of these techniques have not yet found major application in protection it is nevertheless essential for the educated protection engineer to have a basic understanding of the underlying principles and methodology so that he or she can evaluate their suitability for new relaying problems and applications

Chapter 15 was therefore added to guide readers through this developing area I have also added some new material in other chapters to reflect changes over the past years Advanced Design of Ventilation Systems for Contaminant Control Howard

D. Goodfellow,1985 Here for the first time is an authoritative technical reference book covering all aspects of state of the art design of ventilation systems for contaminant control for a wide variety of manufacturing and processing industries The author has played a key role in the development of the subject and this book is based on his extensive consulting experience in the practical engineering design of contaminant control systems world wide as well as his personal research work The material is organized specifically for ease of understanding and contains all the technical information needed to develop cost effective solutions for any type of contaminant in the workplace environment A unique feature is the development of recommended subject classifications for the ventilation field For each type of ventilation system the fundamental design equations are developed from theoretical principles and numerous examples are given of the practical application of these design equations to solving industrial ventilation problems Electrical Power System Protection A.
