Journal Impact Factor®

The Journal Impact Factor (JIF) is a journal-level metric calculated from data indexed in the Web of Science Core Collection. It should be used in conjunction with other metrics. The Journal Impact Factor can complement expert opinion and informed peer review. In the case of academic evaluation for tenure, it is inappropriate to use the JIF as the sole metric.

Numerical Correlation between Impact Factor and Web Ranking of Electronic Scientific Journals Using Regression Analysis Giorgos Kouropoulos, Γιώργος Κουρόπουλος, 2017-12-15 The present study attempts to examine the numerical correlation between web ranking of electronic scientific journals and impact factor of these journals using the method of regression analysis Regression analysis allows the option of investigating and predicting the numerical relationship between website ranking of scientific journals on the World Wide Web and the value of impact factor of the journals A sample of 57 publishers with 6 272 scientific journals and 50 standalone scientific journals was analyzed during research procedure In this study two different indicators about websites classification on World Wide Web were examined separately for 57 publishers and 50 standalone journals Alexa rank and Statscrops rank The electronic databases through the internet constitute the main information resources of this study about the impact factors The general conclusion that arises is that the impact factor of electronic scientific journals illustrates a very strong positive correlation with classification of websites on the World Wide Web Furthermore it is concluded that the change of web ranking as a function of impact factor is governed by a Gaussian function or rational function with lower Pearson coefficient and presents non linearly correlation Even if there is very strong correlation between impact factor and web rank for electronic journals the prediction of impact factor from web rank is not possible and presents many divergences Clinical Informatics Board Review and Self Assessment Scott Mankowitz, 2018-02-08 The book offers an introduction to all the informatics concepts that are represented on the Clinical Informatics Board Examination The core and direction of this book is to mirror the model of clinical informatics which is used by the American Board of Preventive Medicine to create their exam Unlike any other text on the market the book includes simulated exam questions to help the reader assess his knowledge and focus his study Clinical Informatics Board Review and Self Assessment is a thorough practical assistant to refine the reader's knowledge regarding this youngest and possibly broadest fields of medicine Women in Academia: Challenges and Solutions to Representation in the Social Sciences Camille Johnson, Jessi L.
