African Studies in the Academy Mawere, Munyaradzi, Mubaya, Tapuwa R., 2017-08-09 For a long time African Studies as a discipline has been spearheaded by academics and institutions in the Global North This puts African Studies on the continent at a crossroads of making choices on whether such a discipline can be legitimately accepted as an epistemological discipline seeking objectivity and truth about Africa and the African peoples or a discipline meant to perpetuate the North's hegemonic socio economic political and epistemic control over Africa The compound question that immediately arises is Who should produce what and which space should African Studies occupy in the academy both of the North and of the South Confronted by such a question one wonders whether the existence of African Studies Centres in the Global North academics open opportunities for critical thinking on Africa or it opens possibilities for the emergence of the same discipline in Africa as a fertile space for trans disciplinary debate While approaches critical for the development of African Studies are pervasive in African universities through fields such as cultural studies social anthropology history sociology indigenous knowledge studies and African philosophy the discipline of African Studies though critical to Africa is rarely practiced as such in the African academy and its future on the continent remains bleak African Studies in the Academy is a testimony that if honestly and objectively practiced the crossroads position of African Studies as a discipline makes it a fertile ground for generating and testing new approaches critical for researching and understanding Africa It also challenges Africa to seriously consider assuming its legitimate position to champion African Studies from within These issues are at the heart of the present volume

A Comparison of the European, Inter-American, African and Arab Human Rights Courts: Institutional Aspects Ahmed Almutawa, Zimbos Never Die?, 2023-05-08 This book seeks to explore how the Zimbabwean society and its institutions have survived if not succumbed to continuous economic crises in the country From the 1990s Zimbabwe experienced a sustained economic decline challenged by both internal and external strains Coupled with internal mis governance and corruption the nation plunged into a political and economic crisis which culminated in the second highest world inflation rate for an economy that is not at war In the face of the harsh and continuously deteriorating economic environments Zimbabweans as individuals as well as part of institutions adopted various strategies to negotiate and survive the economic scourge Contributors include Wellington Bamu Nathaniel Chimhete Anusa Daimon Innocent Dande Sylvester Dombo Tinotenda Dube Rudo Gaidzanwa Tafara Evelyn Kombora Ushehwedu Kufakurinani Bernard Kusena Eric Kushinga Makombe Albert Makochehanwa Blessed Masawi Ivo Mhike Joseph P Mtisi Joseph Mujere Wesley Mwatwara Pius S Nyambara Tinashe Nyamunda Mark Nyandoro Takesure Taringana and Nicola Yon Mutimurefu

Regional Integration, Human Rights and Democratic Participation in Africa Karin Deichmann, 2020 The protection of human rights and popular participation on the first sight seem to contradict the often existing image of the African continent However with the foundation of the African Union in 2000 both aspects gain greater importance on regional level Besides that many subregional courts within the sphere of sub Sahara Africa partially started to develop human rights related jurisdiction In addition to that most regional economic communities nowadays provide for their own parliamentary structures The study aims to examine the several institutional structures and their competences on both regional and subregional level Besides that it provides for a profound analysis of the jurisdiction of the respective courts as well as the communications of the African Commission of Human and Peoples Rights Lastly the study focuses on the correlation between the extension of the institutions competences and the political will of the involved governments

EU Sanctions Litigation Alexandre Sztulman, 2025-11-27 This book comprehensively examines the European Union EU judiciary s approach to international sanctions drawing on recent case law from the Court of Justice and the General Court It addresses the procedural framework governing judicial review alongside a substantive evaluation of restrictive measures in terms of their legality and conformity with fundamental rights and procedural guarantees As a cornerstone of the EU s Common Foreign and Security Policy CFSP restrictive measures particularly international sanctions serve as the Union s primary tool for addressing actions that conflict with its core values Today the EU stands as a leading global authority on sanctions both through implementing United Nations Security Council measures and through independently enacted autonomous sanctions These complex mechanisms blending preventive and punitive approaches impose financial freezes sector specific embargoes and various restrictions targeting governments legal entities and individuals outside the EU Providing a detailed analysis of how these measures intersect with repressive administrative and criminal law the book sheds light on the judicial balance between effective enforcement and the protection of fundamental rights Examining both technical legal issues and broader principles of justice and human rights the book includes recommendations for refining restrictive measures within the EU This book will be of interest to researchers in the fields of EU law international security and human rights offering a nuanced understanding of the judicial review processes that shape the EU s sanctioning powers

Protecting the Individual from International Authority Monika Heupel, Michael Zürn, 2017-04-27 This book shows how international organizations have a greater capacity to violate human rights but also take on responsibility to avert such harm
