in light of the deep moral and professional disagreement that exists The book explains why the current framing within the debate is mistaken and offers an alternative framing In so doing the author discusses disagreement within healthcare professions the distinction between conscience protectors and conscience dissenters and how to properly understand the role of religious and personal philosophical reasons in practicing conscientiously The book articulates the key confusion in much of the current debate that disagreement over conscience in medicine is due to religious or personal philosophical beliefs and rejects it The book then positively argues that differing accounts of moral responsibility are at the root of this disagreement opening up new avenues for dialogue and potentially fruitful collaborations The book concludes with a much needed and basic discussion of what is going on when practical judgements are made in healthcare the medical act This book is of great interest to both advanced undergraduate and graduate students in philosophy bioethics and medicine as well as researchers physicians and health professionals
