Meditations Upon the Liturgical Gospels for the Minor Festivals of Christ Edward Meyrick Goulburn, 1886

Anthropologies of Orthodox Christianity Candace Lukasik, Sarah Riccardi-Swartz, 2025-11-04
Anthropologically explores the entanglement of theology and politics among contemporary Orthodox Christians. Much of the anthropological literature on Christianity tends to concentrate on Protestants and Catholics in the Global South. The contemporary scholarly interest in such communities descends from histories of missionization and colonization of these regions as well as a sense of their theological kinship with the secularized visions of Western political and social life. Orthodox Christianity however has largely been rendered marginal in mainstream anthropological engagement because of its theological and social alterity from such Western anthropological traditions of knowledge production. Because of this, Orthodox Christian lifeworlds in and beyond the academy are created, contested and transformed in relation to various others, whether they be religious, political, secular or historical, with an eye toward a discursive opposition between modernity and Orthodoxy. Each of the essays in Anthropologies of Orthodox Christianity texture a new trajectory in the study of this religious tradition that take seriously the theopolitical aspects of Orthodox life through anthropological inquiry. The volume engages and moves beyond the tension between populist and institutional framings of religion and critically addresses the ontological gap in both anthropology and theology as social, cultural and geopolitical interest in Orthodox Christianity continues to expand and grow.
