Education, Race, and Social Change in South Africa John A. Marcum, 2023-04-28 Education Race and Social Change in South Africa examines the deep rooted issues of higher education in South Africa highlighting the complex interplay between race politics and access to education Beginning with the colonial foundations of South African higher education in the early 19th century it traces the development of institutions such as the University of Cape Town and the University of Fort Hare reflecting the segregated nature of the education system As the country transitioned to a republic in the 20th century the policies of apartheid shaped the university landscape leading to the creation of separate institutions for various racial groups The book explores how these divisions have persisted particularly in the context of racial inequalities in enrollment and access to quality education with black students historically underrepresented in South Africa s leading universities The study also delves into the evolving nature of South African higher education in the face of racial segregation examining the impact of political shifts on the educational landscape With the rise of the National Party in 1948 and the implementation of strict segregation policies the book explores the creation of ethnic universities for non white students and the ongoing challenges faced by these institutions in providing quality education The book raises critical questions about the future of education in South Africa focusing on the need for reform to bridge the educational divide address teacher shortages and promote greater racial integration within universities It also considers the role of international collaboration and aid in fostering educational opportunities for black South Africans and suggests possible pathways for achieving equitable educational access This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1982

Butterflies & Barbarians Patrick Harries, 2007 The Swiss missionaries played a primary role in explaining Africa to the literate world in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries This book emphasises how these European intellectuals brought to the deep rural areas of southern Africa by their vocation formulated and ordered knowledge about the continent Central to this group was Junod who became a pioneering collector in the fields of entomology and botany He would later examine African society with the methodology theories and confidence of the natural sciences On the way he came to depend on the skills of African observers and collectors Out of this work emerged in three stages between 1898 and 1927 an influential classic in the field of South African anthropology Life of a South African Tribe At the same time Patrick Harries examines how local people absorbed imported ideas into their own body of knowledge Through a process of interchange and compromise Africans adapted foreign ways of seeing and doing things and rapidly made them their own This is a history of new ideas and practices that shook African societies before and during the early years of colonialism It is equally a history of ordinary people and their ability to adapt change and subvert these ideas

Professor T O Ranger says Now really for the first time Harries sets these arguments in a wonderfully persuasive detailed and dynamic context He really understands the principle of nineteenth century botany and insect classification the organising concepts of linguistics and the changing assumptions of ethnography and anthropology One gets a profound sense of intellectual formation of debate and development of ideas Missionary ideas are themselves no single thing but constantly in debate and in flux PATRICK HARRIES is Professor of History in the University of Basel North America Ohio U Press South Africa Wits U Press Zimbabwe Weaver      Towards new e-Infrastructure and e-Services for Developing Countries Rafik Zitouni, Amreesh Phokeer, Josiah Chavula, Ahmed Elmokashfi, Assane Gueye, Nabil Benamar, 2021-03-03 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed proceedings of the 12th International Conference on e Infrastructure and e Services for Developing Countries AFRICOMM 2020 held in Eb ne City Mauritius in December 2020 Due to COVID 19 pandemic the conference was held virtually The 20 full papers were carefully selected from 90 submissions The papers are organized in four thematic sections on dynamic spectrum access and mesh networks wireless sensing and 5G networks software defined networking Internet of Things e services and big data DNS resilience and performance      The Hidden History of South Africa's Book and Reading Cultures Archie L. Dick, 2013-06-17 The Hidden History of South Africa s Book and Reading Cultures shows how the common practice of reading can illuminate the social and political history of a culture This ground breaking study reveals resistance strategies in the reading and writing practices of South Africans strategies that have been hidden until now for political reasons relating to the country s liberation struggles By looking to records from a slave lodge women s associations army education units universities courts libraries prison departments and political groups Archie Dick exposes the key works of fiction and non fiction magazines and newspapers that were read and discussed by political activists and prisoners Uncovering the book and library schemes that elites used to regulate reading Dick exposes incidences of intellectual fraud book theft censorship and book burning Through this innovative methodology Dick aptly shows how South African readers used reading and books to resist unjust regimes and build community across South Africa s class and racial barriers      South African Digest ,1980      The Calendar University of South Africa,1994      Gazette - Australian Mathematical Society Australian Mathematical Society,2000      The Griqua Past and the Limits of South African History, 1902-1994 Edward Cavanagh,2011 The Griqua people are commonly misunderstood Today they do not figure in the South African imagination as other peoples do nor have they for over a century This book argues that their comparative invisibility is a result of their place in the national narrative In this revisionist analysis of South African historiography the author analyses over a century s worth of historical studies and identifies a number of narrative frameworks that have proven resilient to change over this time The Griqua in particular have fared poorly compared to other peoples They appear in and disappear from this body of work in a number of consistent ways almost as though scholars have avoided re imagining their history in ways relevant to the present This book questions why that might be the case      Engineering Mega-Systems Renee

Stevens,2016-04-19 With their ability to cross traditional boundaries and achieve a level of functionality greater than their component elements mega systems have helped corporations and government organizations around the world resolve complex challenges that they otherwise couldn t address with stand alone systems Engineering Mega Systems The Challenge of System     The National Agricultural Directory 2011 ,2010
