2015 Unisa Brochure:

Architecture, State Modernism and Cultural Nationalism in the Apartheid Capital Hilton Judin, 2021-04-08 This book is the first comprehensive investigation of the architecture of the apartheid state in the period of rapid economic growth and political repression from 1957 to 1966 when buildings took on an ideological role that was never remote from the increasingly dominant administrative legislative and policing mechanisms of the regime It considers how this process reflected the usurpation of a regional modernism and looks to contribute to wider discourses on international postwar modernism in architecture Buildings in Pretoria that came to embody ambitions of the apartheid state for industrialisation and progress serve as case studies These were widely acclaimed projects that embodied for apartheid officials the pursuit of modernisation but carried latent apprehensions of Afrikaners about their growing economic prospects and cultural estrangement in Africa It is a less known and marginal story due to the dearth of material and documents buried in archives and untranslated documents Many of the documents drawings and photographs in the book are unpublished and include classified material and photographs from the National Nuclear Research Centre negatives of 1960s from Pretoria News and documents and pamphlets from Afrikaner Broederbond archives State architecture became the most iconic public manifestation of an evolving expression of white cultural identity as a new generation of architects in Pretoria took up the challenge of finding form to their prospects and beliefs It was an opportunistic faith in Afrikaners who urgently needed to entrench their vulnerable and contested position on the African continent The shift from provincial town to apartheid capital was swift and relentless Little was left to stand in the way of the ambitions and aim of the state as people were uprooted and forcibly relocated structures torn down and block upon block of administration towers and slabs erected across Pretoria This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of architectural history as well as those with an interest in postcolonial studies political science and social anthropology

these processes are unfolded step by step from the earliest discussions of the purpose and content of the frieze through all the stages of its design to its shipping to post war Italy to be copied into marble from Monte Altissimo up to its final installation in the Monument The book examines how visual representation transforms historical memory in what it chooses to recount and the forms in which it is depicted The second volume expands on the first by investigating each of the twenty seven scenes of the frieze in depth providing new insights into not only the frieze but also South Africa s history Fran ois van Schalkwyk of African Minds co publisher with De Gruyter writes From Memory to Marble is an open access monograph in the true sense of the word Both volumes of the digital version of the book are available in full and free of charge from the date of publication This approach to publishing democratises access to the latest scholarly publications across the globe At the same time a book such as From Memory to Marble with its unique and exquisite photographs of the frieze as well as its wealth of reproduced archival materials demands reception of a more traditional kind that is on the printed page For this reason the book is likewise available in print as two separate volumes The printed and digital books should not be seen as separate incarnations each brings its own advantages working together to extend the reach and utility of From Memory to Marble to a range of interested readers
