Christian Theology and the Secular University Paul A. Macdonald, Jr.,2017-02-24 If the secular university by definition is non sectarian or non denominational then how can it accommodate a discipline like Christian theology Doesn t the traditional goal of theological study which is to attain knowledge of the divine fundamentally conflict with the main goal of secular academic study which is to attain knowledge about ourselves and the world in which we live So why should theology be admitted or even care about being admitted into secular academic life And even if theology were admitted what contribution to secular academic life could it make Working from a Christian philosophical and theological perspective but also engaging a wide range of theologians philosophers and religious studies scholars Christian Theology and the Secular University takes on these questions arguing that Christian theology does belong in the secular university because it provides distinct resources that the secular university needs if it is going to fulfill what should be its main epistemic and educative ends This book offers a fresh and unique perspective to scholars working in the disciplines of theology philosophy and religious studies and to those in other academic disciplines who are interested in thinking critically and creatively about the place and nature of theological study within the secular university

Believing Women in Islam Asma Barlas, 2019-01-16 Does Islam call for the oppression of women Non Muslims point to the subjugation of women that occurs in many Muslim countries especially those that claim to be Islamic while many Muslims read the Qur'an in ways that seem to justify sexual oppression inequality and patriarchy Taking a wholly different view Asma Barlas develops a believer's reading of the Qur'an that demonstrates the radically egalitarian and antipatriarchal nature of its teachings Beginning with a historical analysis of religious authority and knowledge Barlas shows how Muslims came to read inequality and patriarchy into the Qur'an to justify existing religious and social structures and demonstrates that the patriarchal meanings ascribed to the Qur'an are a function of who has read it how and in what contexts She goes on to reread the Qur'an's position on a variety of issues in order to argue that its teachings do not support patriarchy To the contrary Barlas convincingly asserts that the Qur'an affirms the complete equality of the sexes thereby offering an opportunity to theorize radical sexual equality from within the framework of its teachings This new view takes readers into the heart of Islamic teachings on women gender and patriarchy allowing them to understand Islam through its most sacred scripture rather than through Muslim cultural practices or Western media stereotypes For this revised edition of Believing Women in Islam Asma Barlas has written two new chapters Abraham's Sacrifice in the Qur'an and Secular Feminism and the Qur'an as well as a new preface an extended discussion of the Qur'an's wife beating verse and of men's presumed role as women's guardians and other updates throughout the book

The Promise of Piety Arsalan Khan, 2024-02-15 In The Promise of Piety Arsalan Khan examines the zealous commitment to a distinct form of face to face preaching dawat among Pakistani Tablighis practitioners of the transnational Islamic piety movement the Tablighi Jamaat This group says that Muslims have abandoned their religious duties for worldly pursuits creating a state of moral chaos apparent in the breakdown of relationships in the family nation and global Islamic community Tablighis insist that this dire situation can only be remedied by drawing Muslims back to Islam through dawat which they regard as the sacred means for spreading Islamic virtue In a country founded in the name of Muslim identity and where Islam is ubiquitous in public life the Tablighi claim that Pakistani Muslims have abandoned Islam is particularly striking The Promise of Piety shows how Tablighis constitute a distinct form of pious relationality in the ritual processes and everyday practices of dawat and how pious relationality serves as a basis for transforming domestic and public life Khan explores both the promise and limits of the Tablighi project of creating an Islamic moral order that can transcend the political fragmentation and violence of
