de Esteban Chapapria,2015-06-02 Urban Transport XXI contains the proceedings of the 21st International Conference on Urban Transport and the Environment The series of annual conferences organised by the Wessex Institute was first held in 1995 Transportation in urban areas with its related environmental and social impacts is a topic of significant concern for policymakers in both municipal and central government and for the urban citizens who need effective and efficient transport systems Urban transport systems require considerable studies to devise and then safeguard their operational use maintenance and safety Transportation systems produce significant environmental impacts and can enhance or degrade the quality of life in urban centres Clearly the challenge of providing effective and efficient transport systems in urban settings remains an acute concern with financial political and environmental constraints limiting the ability of transport system planners and operators to deliver the high quality outcomes expected by the public Papers cover such topics as Urban Transport Planning and Management Urban Transport Strategies Public Transport Systems Environmental Aspects Economic and Social Impact Safety and Security Travel Behaviour Studies Customer Satisfaction Transportation Modelling and Simulation Infrastructure Development Intelligent and Advanced Transport Systems Transportation Integration City Logistics Resilience and Inter modal Transport Systems Mass Transport Strategies Social Impacts Freight Transport Railway Systems

Race Julia Tischler,2025-02-17 Simultaneous to the rise of industrial capitalism agriculture still the mainstay of most human communities around the globe in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries underwent dramatic changes In many countries including most settler economies a large scale input heavy and increasingly mechanized commercial agricultural sector emerged while scores of struggling rural producers were squeezed off the land The same period saw the rise of a global colour line increasingly rigid social categorizations based foremost on skin colour By considering agricultural progressivism as both a Pan Africanist and white supremacist movement Julia Tischler here demonstrates how the agrarian question and the colour line intersected Taking a uniquely transnational and comparative approach the book explores these rural transformations through the lens of agricultural education including agricultural colleges extension services children s clubs and domestic training In so doing and by taking South Africa in the segregation period as its central case study an extreme example of both rapid agrarian change and state sanctioned racism the book offers important insights into global questions of rural reform and race politics addressing all scholars and students who seek to understand the intricate links between race knowledge and rural reform in the twentieth century The First Chemistry Department in Port Elizabeth Peter Loyson,2017-01-01 The first Chemistry Department in Port Elizabeth was founded in 1929 at the PE Technical College in Russell Road This institution was later renamed the College for Advanced Technical Education CATE and still later it became the PE Technikon when it moved to its Summerstrand Campus This is the story of this Chemistry Department over 75 years until 2005 when the Techikon became part of the newly established Nelson Mandela Metropolitan University Archive material was used to compile the story of the various Heads of Department and their staff who contributed so much in making this Department so successful

Placing Critical Geography Lawrence D. Berg, Ulrich Best, Mary Gilmartin, Henrik Gutzon Larsen, 2021-11-29 This book explores the multiple histories of critical geography as it developed in 14 different locations around the globe whilst bringing together a range of approaches in critical geography It is the first attempt to provide a comprehensive account of a wide variety of historical geographies of critical geography from around the world Accordingly the chapters provide accounts of the development of critical approaches in geography from beyond the hegemonic Anglo American metropolises Bringing together geographers from a wide range of regional and intellectual milieus this volume provides a critical overview that is international and illustrates the interactions or lack thereof between different critical geographers working across a range of spaces The chapters provide a more nuanced history of critical geography suggesting that while there were sometimes strong connections with Anglo American critical geography there were also deeply independent developments that were part of the construction of very different kinds of critical geography in different parts of the world Placing Critical Geographies provides an excellent companion to existing histories of critical geography and will be important reading for researchers as well as undergraduate and graduate students of the history and philosophy of geography The Farmer's Weekly, 1929
