The MAC Flyer, 1982 Translation in Transition Arnt Lykke Jakobsen, Bartolomé Mesa-Lao, 2017-09-15 Translation practice and workflows have witnessed significant changes during the last decade New market demands to handle digital content as well as technological advances are leading this transition The development and integration of machine translation systems have given post editing practices a reason to be in the context of professional translation services Translators may still work from a source text but more often than not they are presented with already translated text involving different degrees of translation automation This scenario radically changes the cognitive demands of translation Technological development has inevitably influenced the translation research agenda as well It has provided new means of penetrating deeper into the cognitive processes that make translation possible and has endorsed new concepts and theories to understand the translation process Computational analysis of eye movements and keystroke behaviour provides us with new insights into translational reading processes of literality effects of directionality similarities between inter and intralingual translation as well as the effects of post editing on cognitive processes and on the quality of the final outcome All of these themes are explored in depth in the articles in this volume which presents new and valuable insights to anyone interested in what is currently happening in empirical process oriented translation research Effective Teaching Strategies for Dyscalculia and Learning Difficulties in Mathematics Marie-Pascale Noël, Giannis Karagiannakis, 2022-03-28 Effective Teaching Strategies for Dyscalculia and Learning Difficulties in Mathematics provides an essential bridge between scientific research and practical interventions with children It unpacks what we know about the possible cognitive causation of mathematical difficulties in order to improve teaching and therefore learning Each chapter considers a specific domain of children s numerical development counting and the understanding of numbers understanding of the base 10 system arithmetic word problem solving and understanding rational numbers The accessible guidance includes a literature review on each topic surveying how each process develops in children the difficulties encountered at that level by some pupils and the intervention studies that have been published It guides the reader step by step through practical guidelines of how to assess these processes and how to build an intervention to help children master them Illustrated throughout with examples of materials used in the effective interventions described this essential guide offers deep understanding and effective strategies for developmental and educational psychologists special educational needs and or disabilities coordinators and teachers working with children experiencing mathematical difficulties Teaching Dialogue Interpreting Letizia Cirillo, Natacha Niemants, 2017-10-15 Teaching Dialogue Interpreting is one of the very few book length contributions that cross the research to training boundary in dialogue interpreting The volume is innovative in at least three ways First it brings together experts working in areas as diverse as business interpreting court interpreting medical interpreting and interpreting for the media who represent a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches Second it addresses instructors and course designers in higher education but may also be used for refresher courses and or retraining of in service interpreters and bilingual staff Third and most important it provides a set of resources which while research driven are also readily usable in the classroom either together or separately depending on specific training needs and or research interests The collection thus makes a significant contribution in curriculum design for interpreter education Telephone directory AT & T (Firm),1941-06
