Youth Employment Programs in Ghana Christabel Dadzie, Mawuko Fumey, Suleiman Namara, 2020-09-04 Unemployment and underemployment are global development challenges The situation in Ghana is no different In 2016 it was projected that given the country's growing youth population 300 000 new jobs would need to be created each year to absorb the increasing numbers of unemployed young people Yet the employment structure of the Ghanaian economy has not changed much from several decades ago Most jobs are low skill requiring limited cognitive or technology know how reflected in low earnings and work of lower quality An additional challenge for Ghana is the need to create access to an adequate number of high quality productive jobs This report seeks to increase knowledge about Ghana's job landscape and youth employment programs to assist policy makers and key stakeholders in identifying ways to improve the effectiveness of these programs and strengthen coordination among major stakeholders Focused strategic short to medium term and long term responses are required to address current unemployment and underemployment challenges Effective coordination and synergies among youth employment programs are needed to avoid duplication of effort while the country's economic structure transforms Effective private sector participation in skills development and employment programs is recommended The report posits interventions in five priority areas that are not new but could potentially make an impact through scaling up 1 agriculture and agribusiness 2 apprenticeship skills training 3 entrepreneurship 4 high yielding areas renewable energy solar construction tourism sports and green jobs and 5 preemployment support services Finally with the fast changing nature of work due to technology and artificial intelligence Ghana needs to develop an education and training system that is versatile and helps young people to adapt and thrive in the twenty first century world of work

Community Participation in School Management Kazuro Shibuya, 2022-09-12 Nobody denies that trust in schools is key to success in generating any educational outcomes However trust is often eroded resulting in conflicts alienation and differentiation among school level stakeholders This book analyses school based management SBM of education through the lens of relational trust in the context of Ghana revealing how community participation in school management leads to educational outcomes Conducting quantitative analysis of headteacher questionnaires from public basic schools and qualitative analysis of case study schools in the Akatsi South District of Ghana Shibuya offers critical insights into building sustainable relationships between individual households and geographical school communities He argues it is critical to highlight relational trust as an analytical tool to examine relationships between actors and factors in school management The research finds that trust in schools is a two way mechanism and the mutuality of expectations and obligations among stakeholders is essential if children s learning outcomes are to improve With its mixed methods approach this book will be a valuable resource for scholars in comparative education those in educational development and those interested in African contexts

Factors contributing to academic performance of students in a Junior High School Anthony Abaidoo, 2018-11-22 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Pedagogy School System Educational and School Politics grade 5 GHA System University of Education Distance Learning course Post Graduate Diploma in Education language English abstract Students academic performance is a key feature in education This study was therefore conducted primarily to assess the factors contributing to improvement in academic performance of Junior High Students JHS in a Basic School which is in the Gomo East District in the Central Region of Ghana The mixed and descriptive research design was used and a sample size of 87 respondents 79 students and 8 teachers were selected through random sampling technique The findings revealed that the average academic performance 47 0% of the JHS students in the Basic School is weak and their performance in Mathematics average score of 31 48% and English Language average score of 39 99% is a fail It was noticed that student factors that contribute to an improvement in academic performance include regular studying self motivation punctuality and regular class attendance hard work and interest in a subject The teacher factors were completion of syllabus use of TLM s frequent feedback to students and given students special attention Per the findings parent factors which was very key was parent showing concern in their children s academics and providing them their academic needs School factors that were significant included availability of text books and TLM s The study also found that parent level of education and gender has a positive relationship with academic performance but it s insignificant However age has a positive significant 5% significance level relationship with academic performance Based on findings the study recommends that there should be strict monitoring on teachers to vary their teaching methods to suit their needs of the students and also to provide the students with constant feedback on their academic performance Again the students should be motivated and orientated to take ownership of their studies by having regular studies and attending school during school days

Serhat Ertan, 2021-05-13 This book is the largest referral for Turkish companies Meteorologische Abhandlungen Freie Universität Berlin. Institut für Meteorologie, Freie Universität Berlin. Institut für Meteorologie., 1973 Understanding West Africas Ebola Epidemic Ibrahim Abdullah, Ismail Rashid, 2017-10-15 From 2013 to 2015 over 11 000 people across West

Africa lost their lives to the deadliest outbreak of the Ebola virus in history Crucially this epidemic marked the first time the virus was able to spread beyond rural areas to major cities overturning conventional assumptions about its epidemiology With backgrounds ranging from development to disease control the contributors to this volume some of them based in countries affected by the Ebola epidemic consider the underlying factors that shaped this unprecedented outbreak While championing the heroic efforts of local communities and aid workers in halting the spread of the disease the contributors also reveal deep structural problems in both the countries and humanitarian agencies involved which hampered the efforts to contain the epidemic Alarming they show that little has been learned from these events with health provision remaining underfunded and poorly equipped to deal with future outbreaks Such issues they argue reflect the wider challenges we face in tackling epidemic disease in an increasingly interconnected world

Primary Mathematics Pedagogy at the Intersection of Education Reform, Policy, and Culture Sarah Murray, Princess Allotey, 2021-11-29 This volume provides an in depth comparative examination of how primary mathematics education is influenced by national education reform policy local resources and culture in three different countries By drawing on first hand observations and interviews as well as analysis of policy documents and learning resources the book considers the viability of transferring best practices in primary mathematics education across global contexts Three diverse countries Ghana the US and Singapore are explored Similarities and differences are highlighted and the influence of national and regional initiatives related to pedagogical strategies teacher education and cultural expectations are considered to offer an insightful examination of how best practices might be shared across borders This book will benefit researchers academics and postgraduate scholars with an interest in international and comparative education mathematics and educational policy Those with a specialization in primary mathematics education including pedagogy and teacher preparation will also benefit from this book

Community Participation with Schools in Developing Countries Mikiko Nishimura, 2020-08-04 The Sustainable Development Goals SDGs 2016 2030 set by the United Nations in 2015 restated the importance of universal primary education for all and specifically discuss quality equity and inclusion in basic education To achieve this the role of community has been emphasized and participation has become a buzzword in international development over the past several decades Despite the growing attention to community participation in school management previous literature has shown mixed results in terms of its actual practice and its impacts on quality equity and inclusion in education This book deepens the contextual understanding of community in developing countries and its involvement in schools in general and its impact on quality equity and inclusion of school education in particular By presenting various case studies in Asia Africa Latin America and a post conflict state in Europe the book analyses commonalities and differences in the ways communities are involved and cast their impacts and challenges The book contributes knowledge on the ways in which community involvement could work in developing countries the detailed processes and factors that make community participation work in different dimensions and remaining challenges that scholars and practitioners still need to be concerned and mindful in the field This book will appeal to both researchers and practitioners who are concerned about the community participation approach for the SDGs Greening
